- ▲ International Women's Month 2019 organized together with other collectives and individuals--mostly wmyw, for a whole month, campaigning "End Toxic Masculinity". We held workshops (self defense, reproductive health, zine making, natural remedies, eco print, etc.), talk with queers, discussions on sexuality, anarchy feminism, etc., film screening, exhibition, and music performance.

What are we doing?

We provide free education and other resources dedicated to community and people who can't access it. We are using skill share as one medium to learn together such as sewing, making crafts, screenprinting and anything with DIY (Do It Yourself) culture. We held talks and discussions, workshops, campaign and education on women issue, gender equality, reproductive health and sexuality and politics (environmental issue, land and agrarian struggle). We're also working with local rural women and farmers, community organizers and solidarity groups on those topics.

Why We Need This?

At the first time establishment of this project, we received financial support from friends for house initial rent and basic equipments. These past 8 years we tried to maintain our needs independently through selling our own DIY handmade crafts. Nevertheless, after some years of learning and experiences, we realized that we can not afford and maintain most of our financial needs, therefore it affecting the projects. We consider this as result of lack of infrastructure and management. Not to mention, internal and external political dynamics also affecting our collective. After long and thorough evaluation, we decided to rebuild our collective through physical, organizing and management improvement.

Current condition....

Last year's Mayday (2018), a riot happened in Yogyakarta, Indonesia. Students and activists burned a police station as a protest for new airport development which displaced thousands of farmers in Kulon Progo, Yogyakarta. Twelve people were suspects and spent months in prison. We as a collective are also actively involved in solidarity group to support farmers longtime struggle against iron mining and new airport development in Kulon Progo, Yogyakarta. Police collected house with cheaper rent but also torn down in many parts and needs lots of renovating and repairing work. We have to rebuild the house, new library and infoshop and re-set up our DIY studio since it's very crucial to start our activities in proper way. We're still producing our crafts, organizing workshops, events, discussions—reusable menstrual pads workshop with local women, sexual health education, and International Women's Month 2019, to name a few.

- Recent house condition:
- Difficult access & location
 - Dirt road & no road lighting at night
 - Working hand in hand to move stuffs to new house with other collectives and friends

Electricity and kitchen repairment and making kitchen table and shelf

Considering we're already put in police map and the old house was no longer safe, we then moved to a new house, where the location is very remote. We never think to quit doing what we're doing. So we rebuild our community despite the political and financial hardships, and lower infrastructure. On January 2019, we moved to a new

Cops arrested 619 protesters for vandalism and destruction of public property. They're beaten, stripped and bullied. A day later, the National Police of Indonesia announced new 'ideological ghost'—after Communism and Islam extremists: Anarcho Syndicalism. Groups correlate with and use anarchism ideology and symbols throughout Indonesia are started being spied and mapped, including us.

Authorities look for deeper information about anarchist movement and anti-authoritarian network. Our collective is targeted by Yogyakarta local cops. Fortunately, they don't know where we live, they only know some participants' name without knowing specific appearances. So we can still doing our activities including DIY production and social media campaign. In correlation with the current condition, we think it's important for us to adapt new strategies. By this we mean to re-build our collective 'public image' to be seen also as a production space and bring our projects in more inclusive way (security consideration).

Therefore we are in urgent need to rebuild this community space and continue our ongoing projects. This is why we need your solidarity & support in any matters you can.

What We Need

FROM OUR LAST MEETING WE EVALUATE, DISCUSS AND DECIDE SOME THINGS, BELOW ARE THE THINGS THAT BECOMES OUR PRIOR AND CONCERN AT THE MOMENT;

Collective house renovation and maintenance

At the moment we are living in a very small and improper house (approx. 6 x 15 m with 1 bedroom and surface area $\pm 600 \text{ m}^2$) that requires serious renovation due to safety issue (original house condition, geographical matters —we live in earthquake prone area in Yogyakarta). The collective house function and consists of living space, library and infoshop, sewing and screenprinting studio, which is in accordance with one of our goal to make this space more accessible as a learning and working space for our communities.

DIY Screenprinting studio

So far we work manually with modest and limited equipments. We need to upgrade our equipments to work more decent, sustain and efficient in the future.

◀ Road access to house is dark at night, because of the bamboo and trees canopy and no lighting at night, and slippery when raining.

General maintenance:

In running our projects and activities, we need technical support such as; computer, printer & scanner, external hard drive/storage, and stable internet connection. What we have and the conditions until today are:

- 1 old crappy slow monitor and desktop computer. We tried to fix the CPU several times but it always fucked up again and again. So we need to replace it with another one (new or second we don't mind as long it work BETTER!).
- Printer and scanner; same like our computer, we have old printer and scanner (which is not working anymore). We fix them but it fucked up again and again and now it is broken. So we need to replace it with another one (new or second we don't mind as long it work BETTER!).

- External hard drive; we have one 500 GB storage for our documentation and database but it's already full (files of movies, pdf, text, photos). We need to have another one for future database. We need at least a new 1 TB storage hard drive.

We also need:

- Projector for screening, workshop, discussion, etc around the community.
- Tablet/pad for digital management (social media marketing, accounting, notekeeping, etc).

Sewing and crafts studio:

Sewing and crafts production is crucial activity to support collective needs. We have 2 old and miserable sewing machines that need regular maintenance and a new stronger machine to produce crafts more efficient.

You can read details of upgrading plan and amount of money needed in this upgrading plan table below.
