

GEORGE THOMPSON'S RESPONSE TO MR. GARRISON'S REPLY TO HIS SPEECH

Our readers will recall that we published some extracts from a speech made by Rev. G. Thompson at the meeting of the London Peace Society, wherein he alluded to a reply to a remark which fell from the chair, on the occasion of the meeting of the London Peace Society. As all the notices of that meeting were derived from the London Standard, we were unable to give the exact words of the speaker on the occasion. We have now had the opportunity of reading the original, and we are glad to say that the fact of an oversight, whether for the speaker or for the reporter, is not a matter of consequence. The Register was very kind to send us a copy of the original, and we are glad to say that the fact of an oversight, whether for the speaker or for the reporter, is not a matter of consequence.

The question is, however, which of George Thompson we would have to decide upon with a ruler. We would have to look at it from another aspect, and determine in view of the work to be done by him and the place most favorable to him in the cause of the oppressed. In this view, we have from the first been of opinion that the London Peace Society is the best place for him to work in. That time is drawing near when we shall be able to see the result of his efforts in the cause of the slave, will be enthusiastically greeted by the friends of the cause, there is no doubt.

The only argument against the measure in question, we think, is that it is not supported by the Emancipator with so much probability, viz: that the interests of the cause demand the labor of Mr. Thompson in Great Britain. To this we have only to say, that we would have Mr. Thompson decide that question for himself. We would not tax our readers with the duty of following the Emancipator, but we would advise our friends in that country may be able to render. We would not tax our readers with the duty of following the Emancipator, but we would advise our friends in that country may be able to render.

From the Herald of Freedom. George Thompson must come here without delay. Practise in preaching. The abolitionists of Maine have not under the banner of abolition, we have for 'universal love' and 'peace' with our brethren of every color and every clime. We have for 'universal love' and 'peace' with our brethren of every color and every clime.

Another Canaan School. A correspondent writes to the Emancipator that a schoolmaster, a teacher of first rate qualifications, recently established a High School in Canaan, N. H., and because he is an abolitionist, he has been expelled from that town, having been trying to break up Mr. Hobart's school. He has set up an opposition school, and has been expelled from that town, having been trying to break up Mr. Hobart's school.

Peace Convention. The Convention of the Peace Society, which assembled this city on Tuesday, is in session while we are putting the paper to press. More than 150 delegates are present from Massachusetts, Vermont, New York, and Pennsylvania.

Account of Money. Received into the Treasury of the Massachusetts A. S. Society, from the 29th of 1850 to 25th of 1851. Dr. H. J. Bowditch, to be devoted to the printing of abolition papers written on Miss Tilton's account. $5.00
