REFUGEE OF OPPRESSION.

From the N. Y. Observer.

Letter from Rev. Dr. Wisner.

The publication of Dr. Duffield's statement on the subject of the abolition communications which I have received since the charge which was brought in strong terms against Dr. Wisner, has been a great relief to me.

It is a relief to me, because it shows that the charge which was brought against Dr. Wisner, was a charge of a very different nature from that which was imputed to him by the Boston Convention.

The people of Ireland have been long engaged in patriotic efforts to obtain the restoration of their domestic Parliament by the repeal of the legislative Union between their country and Great Britain, the cause of Repeal has excited very great interest, both in this country and in Europe.

OUR COUNTRY IS THE WORLD—OUR COUNTRYMEN ARE ALL MANKIND.

BOSTON, FRIDAY, JULY 14, 1843.

But I am wrong, they never shall. (Tremendous cheering, and waving of handkerchiefs.)

I warn you, keep yourselves free from the enemy—(hear, hear)—let not their cries lap their tongues in your blood—(cheers, and cries of "never fear")—be prudent—(hear)—let there be no more of the spirit of the present day, connect his murder if he dare. (Hear, hear, and vigorous cheering.)

The Repeal demonstration at Kilkenny, on the 15th, is described as having been great. There were, it is said, upwards of 300,000 people present, including from 10,000 to 12,000 horsemen. Mr. O'Connell, in addressing this vast multitude, said—

"Is there a band within hearing? If there be, let them play up 'God save the Queen.' (More than a dozen bands here played up the national anthem, the entire vast multitude remaining uncovered.)

"The termination of the air, three hearty and deafening cheers were given for the Queen. I will now give another subject to cheer—three cheers for the Queen's army—the bravest army in the world—(Tremendous cheers.) Three cheers for the Irish people—the most moral, the most brave, the most temperate and the most religious people on the face of the earth. (Great and long continued cheering.)

After assuring his hearers that nothing could prevent the Repeal being carried off by the people were the Duke of Wellington and Sir R. Peel having come down to Parliament one fine evening, and declared that they would prevent the Repeal of the Union even at the expense of a civil war. We will not go to war with them, but let them not dare to go to war with us. (Tremendous cheering, which continued for some minutes.)

We will act as the defensive, and believe me, men of Kilkenny, there is no power in Europe that would dare attack us and the people of Ireland, when they keep themselves on the right and act on the defensive only. (Hear, hear.) They threatened us with this civil warfare, but we only laughed at them, and you are at liberty to laugh at them again. (Cheers and laughter.) I hurled back my indignation defiance to them from the Repeal Association, and told them what I now tell you, that we never would violate the law or commit any violence, but that we were hands ready to defend our own heads, if they dared to attack us. (Great cheering.) What was the consequence? The great Duke of Wellington and the crafty Sir R. Peel pulled in their horns a little, and said they did not mean to attack us. (Laughter.) But they have sent over 36,000 artillery, cavalry, infantry, and marines here, and I am every day while they remain in the country. (Cheers.) It would be a kind of little repeal of the Union in itself.

At the banquet in the evening he said, alluding to the great assemblage he had seen in the morning—What a waste of physical force we have witnessed to-day. We stand at the head of a body of men that, if organized by military discipline, would be quite abundant for the conquest of Europe. Wellington had never such an army as we saw to-day. There was not at Waterloo on both sides so many men as we saw to-day, and we have seen here to-day. Oh! but it will be said they were not disciplined? If you tell them what to do you will have them all disciplined in an hour. (Great and continued cheering.) Do you not think they were as well able to walk in order after a band as if they wore red coats, and that they would be as ready to obey their imperial wardens as if they were called sergeants and captains?

SELECTIONS.

General Association of Massachusetts.

This body of Representatives of the Orthodox Congregational Church of Massachusetts held its annual meeting at Sunderland, on the 27th ult. The following account of its action on the subject of Slavery is from a report in the New-York Evangelist.

Mr. TRASK said that the Committee of Arrangements had received one or two communications on the subject of slavery; he wished to inquire if the Standing Committee on the subject, had any thing to report. He did not wish to forestall anything which that Committee might have to offer. But no one of that Committee was present. Dr. DEX, the chairman, was prevented from attending by ill health. Mr. TRASK presented the following remonstrance, which was read by the Scribe:

To the General Association of Massachusetts:

The Old Colony Association, believing that American slavery is not a subject which comes within the cognizance of the General Association, that all action of the Association tends to civil war, and that we are bound to remain neutral in the matter, but leave respectfully and earnestly to remonstrate against any action on the part of the Association in reference to the subject of American slavery.

The remonstrance was passed by a unanimous vote.

WILLIAM GOLD, Moderator. ANDREW BOWEN, Scribe. South Dartmouth, Oct. 25, 1842.

This remonstrance was read and laid on the table without remark. The following resolutions were then presented by the Committee of Arrangements:

1. Resolved, That we remark with pleasure the increased attention of our pastors and churches, and in our country generally, regarding the condition and claims of our enslaved countrymen and their oppressors.

2. Resolved, That we receive, with gratitude to God, intelligence that millions of slaves in British India have been, peacefully, so uplifted from their deep degradation, that they are now practically recognized as men.

3. Resolved, That we express the ardent desire and hope, that the ministers and churches of Christ everywhere, will put forth every appropriate Christian effort, to effect the speedy termination of slavery in all lands.

The question now arose, What shall be done with these resolutions?

Dr. SWELL, he had no objections that the resolutions should be adopted; but a committee had been appointed, to whom this whole subject had been referred, and he thought it would not be treating them well to take it out of their hands, till they could have an opportunity to make their report.

Mr. BAKER could see no objection to adopting these resolutions at once. He could not see how this could in any way interfere with the action of their committee.

Mr. CLARK thought that as they had a committee, no action should be taken on the subject till they had reported.

Mr. ALLEN thought the time had come when they might set on the subject without the slightest delicacy; and he hoped that they would not give the subject the go-by.

The question was now agitated, Why was the remonstrance of the Old Colony Association laid away so quietly? Mr. TRASK called for its reading. By a vote of the Association, that paper was then called up. It was now moved by Rev. J. P. Hall, of Egremont, and seconded by Rev. J. A. Roberts, of New Bedford, that this remonstrance be adopted as the vote of the body.

Mr. CURTIS then addressed the Association in a very eloquent and impressive manner. He begged his brethren to consider the influence which would be exerted by the adoption of this remonstrance as the vote of this Association. What will our children say of us, if we declare, in accordance with the legitimate spirit of that remonstrance, that we do not
