Yo, like 'the good Samaritan,' Ne'er pass the sufferer by,
for leave those 'fallen among thieves,
Amid their woes to die;—

Who call the scorned and trampled sla A MAN, a skorner man; ind speak for Justice and for Right, In spite of human ban;—

In spite of human ban :—
Better Church of two or three,
Thus to Christ's spirit tree,
Than a multitude who call him there,
Who yet God's will ne'et do.
Then, norther: fers thou not to stand,
All single and alone,
For the cause of Truth and Righteeuman
To wealth and fame unknown.

For angels, by the world enseen, Shall come to strengthen thee; And the Spirit of Almighty Truth Thy Comforter shall be.

Thy Comforter shall see.

Better, then, single and alone,
By trath and right made strong,
Than with a flattering world to stand,
Contending for the Wrong.

And to thy Soul, threes words of Christ
A mighty host shill be,
To sid thy tollsee 'Fo not alone '
My Father is suith are.'
