

FACTORIES IN THE FIELD FARMWORKERS STRUGGLE TODAY

Do you know who picks your strawberries, cucumbers and pumpkins? Have you heard of the Driscoll's produce company? Did you know that workers just hours south of the Bay Area are getting paid starvation wages? Did you hear that these workers waged a historic strike demanding dignity earlier this year?

Join us at a forum to hear a reportback on the struggle of agricultural workers in the San Quintin Valley of Baja CA, Mexico. A delegation of bay area activists along with a local San Quintin organizers will present information on the historic strike that happened earlier this spring and how you can connect with and learn from the ongoing organizing of farm workers just across the border.

WEDNESDAY AUGUST 12TH 6:30PM - 8:30 PM
