

been placed on the scaffold, instead of freedom-loving John Brown and his companions, under the law...

Whereas, the attempt of John Brown and his associates, at Harper's Ferry, to emancipate a considerable number of the slaves in Virginia, ended in their own destruction on the scaffold, and in the mortal wound to the cause, and whereas, the authorities of Virginia...

Resolved, That the appointment of an Inquisition Committee, by the U. S. Senate, at the instigation of Senator Mason, the infamous author of the Fugitive Slave Law, with full powers to call for persons and papers in relation to the Harper's Ferry tragedy...

Resolved, That the satanic design of this Inquisition must be palpable to the dullest vision, in view of the fact that the Senate, by a strict party vote, refused to adopt Senator Trumbull's amendment...

Resolved, That the attempt of this Inquisition must be palpable to the dullest vision, in view of the fact that the Senate, by a strict party vote, refused to adopt Senator Trumbull's amendment...

Resolved, That in giving their unanimous support to Senator Mason's resolution, after this refusal to allow an impartial investigation, the Republican Senators of the North not only justified themselves, but became accessory to all the villainy wrapped up in that resolution, and deserve the severest condemnation.

Resolved, That the attempt of this Inquisition must be palpable to the dullest vision, in view of the fact that the Senate, by a strict party vote, refused to adopt Senator Trumbull's amendment...

Resolved, That, in the name of the Constitution of Massachusetts, and the Constitution of the United States, we record our solemn protest against the veto of Gov. Banks, subversive of the equal rights of the colored citizens of Massachusetts in relation to the militia law...

Resolved, That the erection of the statue of Daniel Webster on the State House grounds, by the consent of the Legislature, on the advice of Gov. Banks, was a fraud upon the people, and an insult to the Commonwealth...

Resolved, That, in the name of the Constitution of Massachusetts, and the Constitution of the United States, we record our solemn protest against the veto of Gov. Banks...

The meeting was next addressed by WENDELL PHILLIPS.

Mr. GARRISON read a very interesting letter from THOMAS GARRETT, of Wilmington, Delaware.

Mr. GARRISON read a very interesting letter from THOMAS GARRETT, of Wilmington, Delaware.

The resolutions before the Society were adopted, and the Society, on motion, then adjourned, sine die.

FRANCIS JACKSON, President. SAMUEL MAY, Jr., CHARLES K. WHIFFLE, Secretaries.

SUBSCRIPTION-FESTIVAL AND ANNUAL MEETING.

The Annual Anti-Slavery Subscription-Festival was held at Music Hall, in this city, on Wednesday evening, 25th ult. The attendance was numerous...

SPEECH OF DR. JOHN S. ROOK. Delivered at the Annual Meeting of the Massachusetts Anti-Slavery Society, in Boston, Jan. 27, 1860.

It is no trifling matter, no childish play, to attempt to make a speech upon slavery on this platform, where every phase of the pet institution of this Republic is presented from time to time by these noble men and women, who have devoted their lives to exposing this 'sum of all villainies'...

Within the last six months, certain pro-slavery and Republican newspapers have been discussing the question, 'What shall be done with the free colored people?' Such a question, in any other country than this, would be regarded as monstrous.

You know too well that much of the wealth and prosperity of this country has been extracted from the sweat and life-blood of the black man.

Those who advocate our removal say the free blacks are an incubation. If such were the fact, I think we could easily trace it to causes outside of us...

In the name of the Free States, we are not only deprived of every political and nearly every social right, but we are taxed to support schools and institutions that we are not permitted to enter.

Now, my friends, the blacks are not yet disposed of, and it will be some time before we are. We may leave this country quietly, or be driven into Canada or the West Indies, but that does not dispose of us.

Now, my friends, the blacks are not yet disposed of, and it will be some time before we are. We may leave this country quietly, or be driven into Canada or the West Indies, but that does not dispose of us.

Now, my friends, the blacks are not yet disposed of, and it will be some time before we are. We may leave this country quietly, or be driven into Canada or the West Indies, but that does not dispose of us.

for enslaving us, or for robbing us of our inalienable rights. A Frenchman said to me, one day, 'You might as well preach fasting to a starving man, as morality to an American.'

Now, those men who object to giving us our rights, say, 'If we give them their rights, we must invite them to our houses, and mingle with them in marriage.'

Now, those men who object to giving us our rights, say, 'If we give them their rights, we must invite them to our houses, and mingle with them in marriage.'

Now, those men who object to giving us our rights, say, 'If we give them their rights, we must invite them to our houses, and mingle with them in marriage.'

Now, those men who object to giving us our rights, say, 'If we give them their rights, we must invite them to our houses, and mingle with them in marriage.'

Now, those men who object to giving us our rights, say, 'If we give them their rights, we must invite them to our houses, and mingle with them in marriage.'

Now, those men who object to giving us our rights, say, 'If we give them their rights, we must invite them to our houses, and mingle with them in marriage.'

Now, those men who object to giving us our rights, say, 'If we give them their rights, we must invite them to our houses, and mingle with them in marriage.'

Now, those men who object to giving us our rights, say, 'If we give them their rights, we must invite them to our houses, and mingle with them in marriage.'

Now, those men who object to giving us our rights, say, 'If we give them their rights, we must invite them to our houses, and mingle with them in marriage.'

press them. (Hear.) There is no country in the civilized world, no matter how despotic, that would abolish our citizenship, or deny us equal privileges with others, or refuse to protect us with its strong arm.

Now, those men who object to giving us our rights, say, 'If we give them their rights, we must invite them to our houses, and mingle with them in marriage.'

Now, those men who object to giving us our rights, say, 'If we give them their rights, we must invite them to our houses, and mingle with them in marriage.'

Now, those men who object to giving us our rights, say, 'If we give them their rights, we must invite them to our houses, and mingle with them in marriage.'

Now, those men who object to giving us our rights, say, 'If we give them their rights, we must invite them to our houses, and mingle with them in marriage.'

Now, those men who object to giving us our rights, say, 'If we give them their rights, we must invite them to our houses, and mingle with them in marriage.'

Now, those men who object to giving us our rights, say, 'If we give them their rights, we must invite them to our houses, and mingle with them in marriage.'

Now, those men who object to giving us our rights, say, 'If we give them their rights, we must invite them to our houses, and mingle with them in marriage.'

Now, those men who object to giving us our rights, say, 'If we give them their rights, we must invite them to our houses, and mingle with them in marriage.'

world. I believe that no student from the United States has ever taken a third prize at the Sorbonne reunions. I know the fact which I state. I was in Paris at the time, and had the honor of an invitation to a banquet given to the laureates.

Now, those men who object to giving us our rights, say, 'If we give them their rights, we must invite them to our houses, and mingle with them in marriage.'

Now, those men who object to giving us our rights, say, 'If we give them their rights, we must invite them to our houses, and mingle with them in marriage.'

Now, those men who object to giving us our rights, say, 'If we give them their rights, we must invite them to our houses, and mingle with them in marriage.'

Now, those men who object to giving us our rights, say, 'If we give them their rights, we must invite them to our houses, and mingle with them in marriage.'

Now, those men who object to giving us our rights, say, 'If we give them their rights, we must invite them to our houses, and mingle with them in marriage.'

Now, those men who object to giving us our rights, say, 'If we give them their rights, we must invite them to our houses, and mingle with them in marriage.'

Now, those men who object to giving us our rights, say, 'If we give them their rights, we must invite them to our houses, and mingle with them in marriage.'

Now, those men who object to giving us our rights, say, 'If we give them their rights, we must invite them to our houses, and mingle with them in marriage.'

Now, those men who object to giving us our rights, say, 'If we give them their rights, we must invite them to our houses, and mingle with them in marriage.'

Mr. Tilton bestowed high praise upon Mr. Beecher, as he is accustomed to do, but said he did not join in the opinion which seemed to be gaining ground, that a pastor could do so wrong.

Mr. Beecher had repeatedly advocated the application of religion to politics in the pulpit! Why did he now uphold the missionaries and the Prudential Committee in refusing to make such an application in the Indian churches?

Mr. Tilton ventured to apply the argument ad hominem to his pastor, once in his language, and once to his action, and in each case with such pungent appropriateness as to call forth hearty applause from the church, in spite of the pastoral prohibition.

Mr. Beecher had kept within the bounds of truth in his reply to this speech, the impression of it could not have been effaced, its argument would have remained unanswered, and the vote of the church must have gone against the Board.

Mr. Beecher had kept within the bounds of truth in his reply to this speech, the impression of it could not have been effaced, its argument would have remained unanswered, and the vote of the church must have gone against the Board.

Mr. Beecher had kept within the bounds of truth in his reply to this speech, the impression of it could not have been effaced, its argument would have remained unanswered, and the vote of the church must have gone against the Board.

Mr. Beecher had kept within the bounds of truth in his reply to this speech, the impression of it could not have been effaced, its argument would have remained unanswered, and the vote of the church must have gone against the Board.

Mr. Beecher had kept within the bounds of truth in his reply to this speech, the impression of it could not have been effaced, its argument would have remained unanswered, and the vote of the church must have gone against the Board.

Mr. Beecher had kept within the bounds of truth in his reply to this speech, the impression of it could not have been effaced, its argument would have remained unanswered, and the vote of the church must have gone against the Board.

POETRY.

FREEDOM'S MARTYR.
DEAR MR. GARRISON—You will oblige me by inserting in the Liberator...

Thou hast fallen in thine armor,
Thou martyr of the Lord!
With thy last breath crying, 'Onward!'
And thy hand upon the sword.

LINES, written by Mrs. Lydia Maria Child, and sung at the Music Hall, on the twenty-sixth National Anti-Slavery Subscription Anniversary, Jan. 26, 1850.

THE HERO'S HEART.
When he went from the jail to the gallows,
He stooped to kiss a colored child that stood near.

THE SLAVE-GIRL'S PRAYER.

Within the fairest of the Southland's bowers,
Beneath thy blue, star-jewell'd canopy,
Amid the clustering vines and fragrant flowers,

CHARLES SUMNER.

Home, to thy post, brave Sumner!—years of pain,
Of sorrowing exile, have but proved thee true!

THE LIBERATOR.

EXTRACT OF A LETTER FROM THEODORE PARKER TO A FRIEND IN BOSTON.

ROMA, Dec. 24, 1850.
What a stormy time you are having in America!
Your cradle was rocked in the Revolution, and now...

But I end as I began—what a stormy time is before us!
There are not many men of conscience like John Brown,
But abundance of men of wrath—and the time for them!

THEODORE PARKER.
*Not any spot six feet by two
Will hold a man like thee;

JOHN BROWN.
What made John Brown so different from ordinary men?
What were the elements in his character...

My acquaintance with John Brown commenced in 1847,
When I had what I suppose to have been one of the Very best opportunities for a knowledge of his real character...

Those fugitive slaves had a great truth. The world,
I think, had not known before 'The Oneness of God'...

Some 1800 or 1900 years ago, who would have looked to a Jewish Carpenter of Galilee, and a Jewish tent-maker of Tarsus in Cilicia...

It was the Augustinian Monk who broke the Roman Hierarchy to atoms. Tough in the brains, tough in the bones...

At a later day, when the new Continent which God had kept from the foundation of the world—a virgin hid away between the Atlantic and the Pacific...

It was the Augustinian Monk who broke the Roman Hierarchy to atoms. Tough in the brains, tough in the bones, mighty also by his love of the people...

At a later day, when the new Continent which God had kept from the foundation of the world—a virgin hid away between the Atlantic and the Pacific...

It was the Augustinian Monk who broke the Roman Hierarchy to atoms. Tough in the brains, tough in the bones, mighty also by his love of the people...

At a later day, when the new Continent which God had kept from the foundation of the world—a virgin hid away between the Atlantic and the Pacific...

It was the Augustinian Monk who broke the Roman Hierarchy to atoms. Tough in the brains, tough in the bones, mighty also by his love of the people...

At a later day, when the new Continent which God had kept from the foundation of the world—a virgin hid away between the Atlantic and the Pacific...

It was the Augustinian Monk who broke the Roman Hierarchy to atoms. Tough in the brains, tough in the bones, mighty also by his love of the people...

At a later day, when the new Continent which God had kept from the foundation of the world—a virgin hid away between the Atlantic and the Pacific...

It was the Augustinian Monk who broke the Roman Hierarchy to atoms. Tough in the brains, tough in the bones, mighty also by his love of the people...

At a later day, when the new Continent which God had kept from the foundation of the world—a virgin hid away between the Atlantic and the Pacific...

It was the Augustinian Monk who broke the Roman Hierarchy to atoms. Tough in the brains, tough in the bones, mighty also by his love of the people...

At a later day, when the new Continent which God had kept from the foundation of the world—a virgin hid away between the Atlantic and the Pacific...

It was the Augustinian Monk who broke the Roman Hierarchy to atoms. Tough in the brains, tough in the bones, mighty also by his love of the people...

this—it wrote itself, and I couldn't help it. I cannot sleep nights, for thinking of these things. I am ashamed to be sick and good for nothing in times like these, but can't help it, and must be judged by what I can do, not as I can't and don't.

It is curious to find the slaves volunteering to go to shoot men (in buckram) who are coming a thousand at a time to rescue Capt. Brown! The African is as much superior to the Anglo-Saxon in cunning and arts of hypocrisy—except the ecclesiastical—as he is inferior in general power of mind.

THEODORE PARKER.
*Not any spot six feet by two
Will hold a man like thee;

JOHN BROWN.
What made John Brown so different from ordinary men?
What were the elements in his character...

My acquaintance with John Brown commenced in 1847,
When I had what I suppose to have been one of the Very best opportunities for a knowledge of his real character...

Those fugitive slaves had a great truth. The world,
I think, had not known before 'The Oneness of God'...

Some 1800 or 1900 years ago, who would have looked to a Jewish Carpenter of Galilee, and a Jewish tent-maker of Tarsus in Cilicia...

It was the Augustinian Monk who broke the Roman Hierarchy to atoms. Tough in the brains, tough in the bones...

At a later day, when the new Continent which God had kept from the foundation of the world—a virgin hid away between the Atlantic and the Pacific...

It was the Augustinian Monk who broke the Roman Hierarchy to atoms. Tough in the brains, tough in the bones, mighty also by his love of the people...

At a later day, when the new Continent which God had kept from the foundation of the world—a virgin hid away between the Atlantic and the Pacific...

It was the Augustinian Monk who broke the Roman Hierarchy to atoms. Tough in the brains, tough in the bones, mighty also by his love of the people...

At a later day, when the new Continent which God had kept from the foundation of the world—a virgin hid away between the Atlantic and the Pacific...

It was the Augustinian Monk who broke the Roman Hierarchy to atoms. Tough in the brains, tough in the bones, mighty also by his love of the people...

At a later day, when the new Continent which God had kept from the foundation of the world—a virgin hid away between the Atlantic and the Pacific...

It was the Augustinian Monk who broke the Roman Hierarchy to atoms. Tough in the brains, tough in the bones, mighty also by his love of the people...

At a later day, when the new Continent which God had kept from the foundation of the world—a virgin hid away between the Atlantic and the Pacific...

It was the Augustinian Monk who broke the Roman Hierarchy to atoms. Tough in the brains, tough in the bones, mighty also by his love of the people...

At a later day, when the new Continent which God had kept from the foundation of the world—a virgin hid away between the Atlantic and the Pacific...

It was the Augustinian Monk who broke the Roman Hierarchy to atoms. Tough in the brains, tough in the bones, mighty also by his love of the people...

At a later day, when the new Continent which God had kept from the foundation of the world—a virgin hid away between the Atlantic and the Pacific...

from numerous incidents in his career. And, above all, he was a hero, whose manly bearing and courage had struck terror into the hearts of American tyrants, from which they can never recover.

THE MISSION OF JOHN BROWN.
Had the churches and the ministry in this country only thirty years ago begun and continued an earnest, united, peaceful protest, with the word of God...

THEODORE PARKER.
*Not any spot six feet by two
Will hold a man like thee;

JOHN BROWN.
What made John Brown so different from ordinary men?
What were the elements in his character...

My acquaintance with John Brown commenced in 1847,
When I had what I suppose to have been one of the Very best opportunities for a knowledge of his real character...

Those fugitive slaves had a great truth. The world,
I think, had not known before 'The Oneness of God'...

Some 1800 or 1900 years ago, who would have looked to a Jewish Carpenter of Galilee, and a Jewish tent-maker of Tarsus in Cilicia...

It was the Augustinian Monk who broke the Roman Hierarchy to atoms. Tough in the brains, tough in the bones...

At a later day, when the new Continent which God had kept from the foundation of the world—a virgin hid away between the Atlantic and the Pacific...

It was the Augustinian Monk who broke the Roman Hierarchy to atoms. Tough in the brains, tough in the bones, mighty also by his love of the people...

At a later day, when the new Continent which God had kept from the foundation of the world—a virgin hid away between the Atlantic and the Pacific...

It was the Augustinian Monk who broke the Roman Hierarchy to atoms. Tough in the brains, tough in the bones, mighty also by his love of the people...

At a later day, when the new Continent which God had kept from the foundation of the world—a virgin hid away between the Atlantic and the Pacific...

It was the Augustinian Monk who broke the Roman Hierarchy to atoms. Tough in the brains, tough in the bones, mighty also by his love of the people...

At a later day, when the new Continent which God had kept from the foundation of the world—a virgin hid away between the Atlantic and the Pacific...

It was the Augustinian Monk who broke the Roman Hierarchy to atoms. Tough in the brains, tough in the bones, mighty also by his love of the people...

At a later day, when the new Continent which God had kept from the foundation of the world—a virgin hid away between the Atlantic and the Pacific...

It was the Augustinian Monk who broke the Roman Hierarchy to atoms. Tough in the brains, tough in the bones, mighty also by his love of the people...

At a later day, when the new Continent which God had kept from the foundation of the world—a virgin hid away between the Atlantic and the Pacific...

It was the Augustinian Monk who broke the Roman Hierarchy to atoms. Tough in the brains, tough in the bones, mighty also by his love of the people...

Underground Railway are conducted, and may do good in a way the Herald never intended. That part of the report which refers to the fugitives in Canada embraces a series of highly colored statements, evidently magnified from the allegations of such friends of the colored race as Mr. Edwin Larvell and others, in Chatham and Windsor.

THE MISSION OF JOHN BROWN.
Had the churches and the ministry in this country only thirty years ago begun and continued an earnest, united, peaceful protest, with the word of God...

THEODORE PARKER.
*Not any spot six feet by two
Will hold a man like thee;

JOHN BROWN.
What made John Brown so different from ordinary men?
What were the elements in his character...

My acquaintance with John Brown commenced in 1847,
When I had what I suppose to have been one of the Very best opportunities for a knowledge of his real character...

Those fugitive slaves had a great truth. The world,
I think, had not known before 'The Oneness of God'...

Some 1800 or 1900 years ago, who would have looked to a Jewish Carpenter of Galilee, and a Jewish tent-maker of Tarsus in Cilicia...

It was the Augustinian Monk who broke the Roman Hierarchy to atoms. Tough in the brains, tough in the bones...

At a later day, when the new Continent which God had kept from the foundation of the world—a virgin hid away between the Atlantic and the Pacific...

It was the Augustinian Monk who broke the Roman Hierarchy to atoms. Tough in the brains, tough in the bones, mighty also by his love of the people...

At a later day, when the new Continent which God had kept from the foundation of the world—a virgin hid away between the Atlantic and the Pacific...

It was the Augustinian Monk who broke the Roman Hierarchy to atoms. Tough in the brains, tough in the bones, mighty also by his love of the people...

At a later day, when the new Continent which God had kept from the foundation of the world—a virgin hid away between the Atlantic and the Pacific...

It was the Augustinian Monk who broke the Roman Hierarchy to atoms. Tough in the brains, tough in the bones, mighty also by his love of the people...

At a later day, when the new Continent which God had kept from the foundation of the world—a virgin hid away between the Atlantic and the Pacific...

It was the Augustinian Monk who broke the Roman Hierarchy to atoms. Tough in the brains, tough in the bones, mighty also by his love of the people...

At a later day, when the new Continent which God had kept from the foundation of the world—a virgin hid away between the Atlantic and the Pacific...

It was the Augustinian Monk who broke the Roman Hierarchy to atoms. Tough in the brains, tough in the bones, mighty also by his love of the people...

At a later day, when the new Continent which God had kept from the foundation of the world—a virgin hid away between the Atlantic and the Pacific...

It was the Augustinian Monk who broke the Roman Hierarchy to atoms. Tough in the brains, tough in the bones, mighty also by his love of the people...

IT IS NOT A DYE.
MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S WORLD'S HAIR RESTORER.
The only preparation that has a EUROPEAN REPUTATION.
Warranted not to contain deleterious substances.

Persons personally known to us have voluntarily, and told us of good results to either themselves or friends, who have used it before or since they were in St. Louis.

Another objection to dyes is the unwholesome nature and the only way to have a permanent color, is to use that which will not fade and yet not a dye—Mrs. S. A. Allen's World's Hair Restorer will do this.

Those of our readers whose hair is turning gray or losing its color, and who are opposed to using a dye, will find in Mrs. S. A. Allen's World's Hair Restorer a preparation that will speedily bring the hair to its natural color, and at the same time render it soft.

Recent accounts state that the citizens are determined upon arresting the murderous band who committed the outrage, and the negro population are determined to protect the school-house, it consequently, great danger of a general disturbance.

At Chatham, forty miles from Detroit, a gang of negroes took possession of the school-houses on Monday morning, and refused to allow the white teachers to enter.

INVESTIGATIONS AHEAD.—We understand that it is the intention of some of the Republicans, so soon as the House is organized, to move for a Committee to inquire whether there have been any recent violations of that clause of the Constitution which provides that 'the citizens of each State shall be entitled to all privileges and immunities of citizens in the several States'...

THE NEW YORK HERALD, in its present position, is a state of painful excitement upon the question of slavery, and negroes in general. The unbending firmness of the Republican party in Congress, and the indications of weakness in the Southern ranks, are inciting it to fresh exertion.

THE MISSION OF JOHN BROWN.
Had the churches and the ministry in this country only thirty years ago begun and continued an earnest, united, peaceful protest, with the word of God...

THEODORE PARKER.
*Not any spot six feet by two
Will hold a man like thee;

JOHN BROWN.
What made John Brown so different from ordinary men?
What were the elements in his character...

My acquaintance with John Brown commenced in 1847,
When I had what I suppose to have been one of the Very best opportunities for a knowledge of his real character...

Those fugitive slaves had a great truth. The world,
I think, had not known before 'The Oneness of God'...

Some 1800 or 1900 years ago, who would have looked to a Jewish Carpenter of Galilee, and a Jewish tent-maker of Tarsus in Cilicia...

It was the Augustinian Monk who broke the Roman Hierarchy to atoms. Tough in the brains, tough in the bones, mighty also by his love of the people...

At a later day, when the new Continent which God had kept from the foundation of the world—a virgin hid away between the Atlantic and the Pacific...