

FREE LEX WOTTON

FREE ALL POLITICAL PRISONERS

Free
Speech

Speak out for Lex Wotton's
Political Freedom!
Lift the unfair gag — let Lex speak!
Build the movement to stop
Aboriginal deaths in custody

One year ago Lex Wotton was released from jail after serving two years behind bars as a political prisoner. Lex got a 6-year sentence after being found guilty of riot with destruction by an all-white jury. He took part in a justified community protest against the death in custody of Mulrunji Doomadgee. In contrast, Chris Hurley, the police officer responsible for the death in custody, has been promoted and compensated. The whole response to the 2004 death in custody has been scandalously flawed.

While Lex is free, he remains politically muzzled by harsh parole conditions, which deny him the right to speak to the media or to attend public meetings.

Lex Wotton is an inspirational advocate for the people of Palm Island whose voice is needed to expose the shameful truth behind the death of Mulrunji and everything that followed.

Attend the lunch time speak out outside the Bank of Queensland. Demand the Queensland Government lift the political gag on Lex Wotton now! Stop Aboriginal deaths in custody now!

Wednesday 20 July, 12:30 pm – 1:30 pm
outside the Bank of Queensland
163 Bourke Street, Melbourne (near the corner of Russell Street)

Organised by Indigenous Social Justice Association – Melbourne

PO Box 308, Brunswick, Vic 3056 For more information call Cheryl on 0401 806 331 or Solidarity Salon on 9388 0062 or e-mail alison.thorne@ozemail.com.au
www.isja-msg.com