THE ARREST AND RESCUE—THE TRIAL.
 In the preceding columns, we give an account of the arrest, rescue and flight of a slave in this city, on Saturday last—the details of which we have given in our issue of the 14th inst. In our issue of the 14th inst. we have given a very little space for comment on these events. We have now to give an account of the trial of the fugitive, and of the proceedings connected with it.

ARREST OF A MAN IN BOSTON AS A SLAVE—RESCUE OF THE PRISONER.
 [Prepared chiefly from the 'Commonwealth']
 A hired kidnapper, of Norfolk, Va., named John Caper, came to this city last week with papers purporting to show that he was the owner of a slave of John Debee, of Norfolk, a person in the United States. He applied to GEORGE T. CURTIS, Esq., of this city, who was willing to warrant to arrest the fugitive under the Fugitive Slave Law, and it was granted. In the absence of Marshall Debee, who has not yet returned from Washington, the warrant was issued in the name of his attorney, and he was arrested in the city of Boston. He was taken to the jail, and there he remained until he was rescued by a party of abolitionists, who broke into the jail and carried him off to the city of New York.

Government to have me do it, they have only to pay...
 of a bill, and I will answer the bill, if I can...
 FRANCIS PICKENS, Mayor of Charleston, S. C.
 To Hon. J. P. B. DORR, Mayor of Boston.

OLD FELLOWSHIP AND THE UNION.

The Independent Order of Old Fellows perhaps stands first and foremost, in a numerical sense, among the more benevolent institutions of the kind in our country. It has its lodges in every State in the Union, and wherever there is a community of men, it has its lodges. It is a society which binds together the moral ties of friendship, love and respect, and which early teaches that it requires something more than the empty phrases of fraternalism, to make a brotherhood of men.
