

Monday morning 1:00 a.m.

Dear Friend,

You and I have been through a lot together in the course of this short campaign. We've already fought some key battles, won some great victories, and weathered some rough storms. But the challenges ahead may be the toughest yet.

It is no secret that the elites and the political power-brokers do not want us to win this race. A victory on our part would ruin their plans. And they will do anything to keep that from happening.

I don't need to tell you that our American way of life is under attack. We see it all around us - every day - and it is up to us to save it.

The world's elites are busy forming a North American Union. If they are successful, as they were in forming the European Union, the good 'ol USA will only be a memory. We can't let that happen.

The UN also wants to confiscate our firearms and impose a global tax. The UN elites want to control the world's oceans with the Law of the Sea Treaty. And they want to use our military to police the world.

Our right to own and use property is fading because bureaucrats and special interests are abusing eminent domain.

Our right to educate our children as we choose is under assault. "No Child Left Behind" is seeing to that. And our right to say "no" to forced mental screening of our school-aged children is nearly gone.

The elites gave us a national ID card. They also gave us the most misnamed legislation in history: The Patriot Act. And then some people are pushing to give amnesty to illegal immigrants and erase our national borders.

Record government debt is putting a burden on our children and grandchildren that is shameful.

Yes. Our American way of life is under attack. And it's understandable that many are concerned, even discouraged, about the kind of country our grandchildren will inherit.

But we must never let discouragement become surrender.

One reason I am NOT discouraged is because I know I am not fighting this battle alone. Each day I head out onto the battlefield I know that you and thousands of other patriotic, freedom-loving Americans are right beside me, standing brave and true for what is good and right.

I am writing you today to ask you to recommit yourself to this battle. I need your help now, more than ever, in the fight to save the country we love...for the people we love.

My wife Carol and I celebrated our 50th wedding anniversary early this year. We are proud parents of five children and 18 grandchildren. We love them very much, as I know you love your family.

As a U.S. congressman, I always keep in mind the well-being of my family and all the other families throughout our country when I cast a vote or introduce legislation. I also keep in mind that I have sworn a solemn oath to uphold and protect the Constitution.

For me, upholding that oath is the first and best way to preserve and protect our blessed American way of life for future generations.

And now you know why I am running for president.

I ask for your help. Please send your maximum donation today to help me spread our message and to press the battle for Liberty. You and I have come this far, and we must not grow weary from the battle.

Thank you, dear friend, for all you mean to me and all you do for freedom.

Sincerely,

Ron

P.S. My campaign is in your hands. Please send your most generous gift today to help me spread the message and to retake our nation from the elitists who are working to destroy our sovereignty. We can not... we must not allow this to happen!!!
