

Coming Soon!

Guidance for the traumatized mourner, with substantial new information counselors can use

Coping With the Sudden Death of Your Loved One:
A Self-Help Handbook for Traumatic Bereavement

Accident *Disaster *Suicide *Homicide
*Death from Terrorism or War Acute Natural Death

Therese A. Rando, Ph.D., BCETS, BCBT

About The Book

Focusing on self-help strategies for mourners losing loved ones to sudden death, this book provides cutting-edge information and practical suggestions for understanding and addressing the unique challenges posed by the volatile mixture of trauma and loss in a death that is unexpected.

Tentative Table of Contents

PART I: Understanding Your Experience

1. Sudden Death Is Traumatic
2. Understanding Loss and Trauma
3. Your Journey Through Grief and Mourning
4. The Six “R” Processes of Mourning
5. Why A Sudden Death Is So Different
6. How You React When Your World Shatters Abruptly
7. Elements Making a Sudden Death More Traumatic
8. How Your Unique Situation Influences Your Mourning
9. Your Traumatic Bereavement Over Time

PART II: Dealing with Your Loved One’s Particular Death

10. Confronting the Circumstances of Sudden Death
11. If Your Loved One Died From Acute Natural Death
12. If Your Loved One Died From An Accident or Disaster
13. If Your Loved One Died from Suicide
14. If Your Loved One Died From Homicide, Terrorism, or War

About The Author

An award-winning clinician, author, and educator, Dr. Rando is a clinical psychologist, traumatologist, and thanatologist. She has consulted, conducted research, provided therapy, written, and lectured internationally in areas related to loss, grief, illness, injury, dying, death, bereavement, disaster, and trauma.

PART III: Contending with the Outside World

15. Dealing With Other People and Work
16. Surviving the Criminal and Civil Justice Systems
17. Looking for Assistance and Mutual Support

PART IV: Helping Yourself

18. Constructing Your Self-Help Plan
19. Thinking and Feeling in Healthy Ways
20. Coping Effectively
21. Enabling Your Six “R” Processes
22. Managing Your Anxiety
23. Handling Your Depression
24. Attending To Other Sudden Death Repercussions
25. Grappling With Loss of a Child
26. Creating Your Own Bereavement Rituals

PART V: Going Forward

27. What Healthy Living With Your Loss Looks Like
28. Choices

ADDENDUM

Traumatic Bereavement From the COVID-19 Pandemic

ALL RIGHTS RESERVED