

How JustGiving works

By using JustGiving you're helping more than just your charity or friend - you're helping to grow the world of giving.

So it's even easier for you to support the causes you care about - by text, mobile, Facebook or on JustGiving.com - wherever you are. That's why more charities recommend JustGiving than any other online fundraising service. (Civil Society survey, April 2012)

JustGiving.com is the most-visited site in the charity giving sector. We're able to process record numbers of donations at a moment's notice because of the millions of pounds we're investing.

Keeping up with the latest technology is simply too costly for most charities. We want every charity, no matter its size, to have the very best support and fundraising tools.

We make it easy for you to donate. Whether through credit card, paypal or text, our job is to give you the very best tools and support.

We send the donations to the charity by seamless bank transfer within days. So whether you gave to a fundraising page or a charity, no one has to lift a finger.

By automating Gift Aid reclaim, we capture every penny that charities are entitled to. Until we came along, many charities did not reclaim Gift Aid at all.

Charities pay us a fee of between 5 and 2% of the donation + Gift Aid. In return, we help charities raise more money, and give them technologies and tools they could not afford to build themselves.
