Offshoot Photographic Society Open Meeting

We are delighted to host an open meeting of locally based Offshoot Photographic Society for anybody that might be curious about photography or thinking about joining a camera club. As part of this session, guest speaker Wildlife and Travel Photographer Cyrus Sangari will give a presentation about his work and share some tips about how to go about getting the best shots possible.

*Beginners and professionals alike are welcome.
(Tea and coffee provided)*

Monday 8th Oct: 7.30-9pm, Marlay Park House

Dara McGrath and Michael Durand in conversation

Join commissioned photographers Dara McGrath and Michael Durand in conversation with Tanya Kiang. For anyone interested in hearing more about these two Irish photographers, what inspires and influences their work and how they approached this commission, this is a rare opportunity to hear about their work over a cup of coffee!

*Chaired by Tanya Kiang, Gallery of Photography Ireland.
(Tea and coffee provided)*

Thursday 18th Oct: 7.30-8.30pm, Marlay Park House

Introduction to Pinhole Photography

Experienced photography facilitator Aoife Giles will guide participants in the basics of how to use a darkroom and create pinhole photographs from a coffee jar! Aoife will facilitate a morning and an afternoon session of the same workshop.

All materials will be provided. No previous experience required.

Saturday 20th Oct: 10.30am-1pm or 2-4.30pm,
Marlay Park House

Photography Shoot in Marlay Park House

Join Offshoot Photographic Society as Marlay Park House is turned into a photographic studio for the day. Come along and try your hand at studio photography.

Please bring your own camera. Some basic photographic knowledge required. There is a morning and an afternoon session available

Saturday 20th Oct: 11am-1.30pm or 2.30-5pm,
Marlay Park House

Cinemobile in the Park

As part of FIELDWORKS watch Bill Cunningham New York in the Cinemobile. This cinema on wheels is a large truck which transforms into a 100 seater state of the art cinema, fully heated and with Dolby Surround Sound – a truly unique experience!

Bill Cunningham New York has won numerous awards at film festivals around the world. This must see documentary is about Bill Cunningham who has spent fifty years in the streets of New York, taking photographs of smart-casual New Yorkers, glamorous eccentrics, unsuspecting celebrities, and anyone in between. His dedication has earned him the admiration of art-lovers, fashionistas, and ordinary New Yorkers. As the editor of Vogue magazine Anna Wintour once admitted “We all dress for Bill”.

Director: Richard Press, 84 min USA, 2010, 12A
