New and Improved Acquia Search

Acquia recently made significant enhancements to Acquia Search. Moving to Solr 3.5 has created a huge leap; ranging from 3-5X faster search response time. Other notable functionality enhancements include:

- Geospatial Search – Acquia Search is able to search, sort, and adjust result rankings based on location by utilizing the distance filter, bounding box, or distance function so users can be presented with content that is geographically relevant.
- Multiple Drupal version support – For sites maintaining both Drupal 6 and Drupal 7 code bases, you can now indexing content from both versions in the same index. Your users can now search Drupal 7 content from a Drupal 6 frontend or vice versa.
- Multi-entity indexing – Drupal is great at maintaining different types of content that it calls “Entities.” Acquia Search can index all of the entities provided by Drupal such as content types, taxonomy terms, users, comments, commerce products, and more. APIs are exposed to developers to index custom entities and data stored outside of Drupal.
- Targeted search page creation – Build additional search pages via an intuitive UI to provide sub-searches of your application’s content.
- Improved attachment search – Acquia Search now recognizes more file types than ever before – HTML, XML, Microsoft Office documents, rich text, audio, image, and video formats and more.
- Search statistics – Gain insight into how users are interacting with search and which queries aren’t producing results. The metrics provided guide site administrators towards configuration modifications that improve the search experience for users.
