Foreword

Match Racing has continued to develop as an important part of our sport. It is conducted extensively from the Club level through to the highest levels of competition, including the America's Cup.

The Call Book has been developed and refined since 1992 and is now in its Seventh Edition. The calls have been developed with the input from sailors and umpires alike due to the need for as much consistency as possible in responding to on-the-water protests. The aim of the Call Book is to help resolve any doubt amongst sailors and umpires about situations referred to in the Call Book.

This latest edition of the Call Book includes developmental changes and fine tuning of calls from the previous Call Book as well as incorporating changes made in the 2009-2012 Racing Rules of Sailing.

In drafting the calls care has been exercised to minimise the difference between Fleet Racing and Match Racing in terms of the Right of Way Rules of Part 2, however it is recognized that Match Racing is a separate discipline and that there are some differences from Fleet Racing.

It is important to note that this Call Book, like previous editions, is therefore only authoritative for umpired Match Racing.

The ISAF Racing Rules Committee trusts that competitors and umpires will continue to provide input to the Racing Rules Committee for further development of the Call Book.

Readers with comments and suggestions are invited to send them to the ISAF Secretariat.

Preface

I would like to thank those who have helped getting this updated version of the Umpires' Call Book for Match Racing ready in time for the implementation of the 2009 - 2012 Racing Rules of Sailing. This includes members of the Match & Team Racing Rules Working Party; Björn Anker-Möller, Jim Capron, Jack Lloyd, Henry Menin and all the sailors and umpires who have commented in different ways.

There are three sections in the Call Book. The first 'General' section covers some issues that apply to many call situations. The second 'Umpire' section is limited to rules (or parts of rules) that are not amended by Appendix C, Match Racing Rules. The final section 'Match Racing' relates to situations involving the rules of Appendix C.

Any call involving contact will also involve rule 14. However, as explained in Call GEN 2, rule 14 has no impact on the immediate umpire decision and therefore is not addressed in each separate call.

This book has been revised to reflect the changes to the Racing Rules of Sailing and Appendix C. Most of the changes are simply changes to the rules references, but some of the calls have changed significantly as a result of the changes to the rules about marks and obstructions. You will find the biggest changes from the 2005 - 2008 version of the Call Book in calls UMP 6, 22, 24, 30 and 34. MR 26 has been deleted. (UMP 8, 15, 23, 25, 31 and MR 5, 9, 20 were deleted in 2005.) This book also includes several new calls, submitted as Rapid Response Calls, and subsequently approved by the ISAF Racing Rules Committee. These calls have been added at the end of each section.

Although some calls are deleted, the remaining calls have not been renumbered. This means that for instance MR 27 now follows directly after MR 26.

Diagrams are limited to 2-dimensional snapshots of each incident. They cannot show the wind strength, the waves, the heel and speed of boats and all the many other things that contribute to a real-life scenario. They should therefore not be used too literally, but rather as a tool to help recognise quickly and clearly the situation being addressed.

Although the phrase 'a downwind course' has been replaced by 'a course that is more than ninety degrees from the true wind' in the rule book, the call book still uses the phrase 'a downwind course'.

In the back of the book there is an index, which enables calls to be found by key words and rule numbers.

The publishing of the Call Book is governed by ISAF regulation 31. This means that it is authoritative for umpired match racing only. It also means that changes can only be made through the same submission procedures as changes to the rules themselves.

However, ISAF regulation 31 also provides for the system with Rapid Response Match Racing Calls. Calls proposed under this system should be presented in a format similar to existing calls, and sent to the ISAF office in Southampton. Any diagrams should preferably be in TSS. (TSS is a special boat drawing program.) A call approved as a Rapid Response Call will be immediately communicated to all IU's and MNA's. It will also be posted on ISAF's website www.sailing.org.

The Match & Team Racing Rules Working Party will make recommendations on submitted calls and approved Rapid Response Calls to the Racing Rules Committee November meeting each year.

I welcome any comments for improvement of the Call Book.

Marianne Middelthon, Chairman
Match & Team Racing Rules Working Party

CALL GEN 1

Question 1

There are many occasions when umpires are required to judge the exact moment when the state of a boat changes or when the relationship to another boat changes. Examples are: passing beyond head to wind, establishing an overlap, approaching the line to start, etc. How do umpires ensure that they make consistent decisions?

Answer 1

It is not possible to be entirely consistent and most judgements depend on perfect positioning which is not always practical. Umpires will assume that the state of a boat or the relationship with another has not changed until they are certain that it has changed. For example, a boat is not judged 'beyond head to wind' until the umpires are certain that she is so.

This is known as the principle of 'last point of certainty'.

Question 2

When the umpires disagree or are in doubt, what should the call be?

Answer 2

Disagreement or doubt about the facts may be resolved by Question 1/Answer 1. In many situations the 'Yellow' umpire has the responsibility to observe 'Yellow', while the 'Blue' umpire is observing 'Blue'. In these circumstances additional weight should be given to the observations of the appropriate umpire. When disagreement or doubt remains, and there has been no contact between the boats, display the green and white flag. However, if there has been contact, the umpires should penalize both boats (twin penalty).

CALL GEN 2

Rule 14 Avoiding Contact

Question

When an incident results in contact how should the umpires act with regard to rule 14?

Answer

When there has been contact there is a possibility that rule 14 has been broken. However, a breach of rule 14 will not affect any decision made by the umpires in response to a Y-flag.

When the umpires decide that a boat required to keep clear or give room or mark-room is to be penalized for breaking another rule of Part 2, a breach of rule 14 does not result in an additional penalty under C6.5. When a right-of-way boat or a boat entitled to room or mark-room breaks rule 14 she is only liable for a penalty when damage is caused and this is subject to protest under C 6.1.

However, the umpires should initiate a check for damage to be carried out immediately after finishing. If damage is found a protest hearing should be initiated under C8.4.

CALL UMP 1

Rule 11 On the Same Tack, Overlapped
Rule 15 Acquiring Right of Way

Question

Blue establishes an overlap from clear astern. Yellow luffs immediately, and her stern hits Blue. There is a Y-flag. What should the call be?

Answer

Rule 11 required Yellow to keep clear and rule 15 required Blue to initially give Yellow room to keep clear.

If Yellow luffed so that she did not take unnecessary room (see ISAF Case 24), then Blue broke rule 15. Penalize Blue.

If Yellow clearly took more room than was necessary, then Yellow broke rule 11. Penalize Yellow.

CALL UMP 2

Rule 21.3 Moving Astern

Question 1

Is a boat moving astern when she is moving astern through the water or over the ground?

Answer 1

Through the water.

Question 2

Yellow is moving astern through the water as a result of backing a sail. She releases the sail but continues to move astern through the water. Does rule 21.3 apply?

Answer 2

Yes, because moving astern was a result of backing the sail.

CALL UMP 3

Rule 11 On the Same Tack, Overlapped
Rule 15 Acquiring Right of Way

Question

Blue and Yellow are on the same tack, with Blue clear ahead. Yellow is moving faster than Blue. Blue bears away and the boats become overlapped. Blue then turns the other way and there is a collision. There is a Y-flag. What should the call be?

Answer

When Blue bears away, Yellow acquires right of way, at least in part, through Blue's actions. Therefore the second part of rule 15 applies, so she does not have to give Blue room to keep clear. Penalize Blue.

CALL UMP 4

Rule 11 On the Same Tack, Overlapped
Rule 16.1 Changing Course

Question

Yellow and Blue are sailing parallel courses. Yellow bears away hard and Blue is unable to keep clear. Contact occurs. There is a Y-flag. What should the call be?

Answer

Yellow is a right-of-way boat changing course. She did not give Blue room to keep clear and therefore broke rule 16.1. Penalize Yellow.

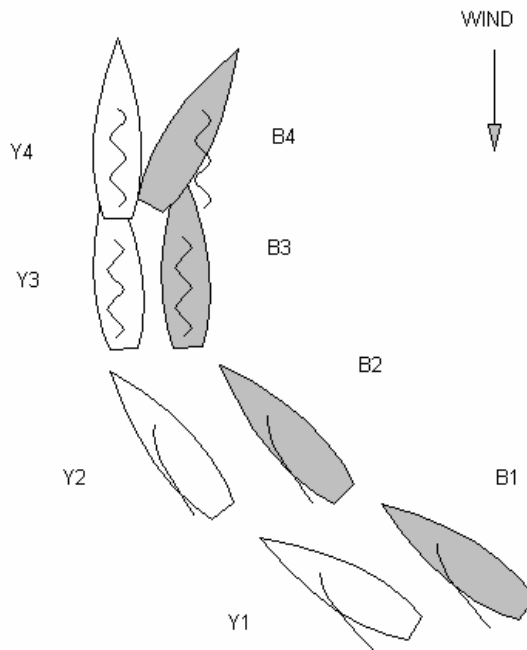

If Yellow had borne away slightly and immediately made contact with Blue, then Blue was not keeping clear under rule 11. Penalize Blue.

CALL UMP 5

Rule 11 On the Same Tack, Overlapped
Rule 16.1 Changing Course
Rule C2.4 While Tacking or Gybing

Question 1

Yellow, a leeward boat, luffs head to wind, and Blue luffs in response, so that both reach positions side by side, head to wind. Blue continues to change course and passes head to wind. In so doing she makes contact with Yellow. There is a Y-flag. What should the call be?

Answer 1

If, when Yellow begins her luff, Blue immediately responds and continues to do what she is able to do to keep clear throughout the incident but there is contact anyway, then Yellow is not giving Blue room to keep clear and she breaks rule 16.1. Penalize Yellow.

If Blue could have kept clear, but either responded too slowly, not enough, or over rotated, then Blue has broken rule 11 or 13.1. Penalize Blue.

Question 2

In similar circumstances, Blue responds and when head to wind, she remains so for a time. Then Yellow bears away and their sterns make contact. There is a Y-flag. What should the call be?

Answer 2

If Yellow's change of course immediately results in contact with Blue, Blue was not keeping clear and broke rule 11. Penalize Blue.

If there was more distance between them, and Yellow bears away hard giving Blue no room to keep clear, then Yellow breaks rule 16.1. Penalize Yellow.

The umpires' decision is based on the distance between the boats, the nature of Yellow's bear-away and the efforts of Blue to keep clear.

Question 3

In similar circumstances, Blue keeps clear, but when head to wind, she maintains it for a time. Blue then passes head to wind, and slightly later Yellow bears away and their sterns make contact. There is a Y-flag. What should the call be?

Answer 3

When Blue passes head to wind, the boats are no longer overlapped on the same tack and the second part of the definition of Keep Clear no longer applies.

If the contact would have occurred without Yellow bearing away, Blue broke rule 13.1. Penalize Blue.

If the contact would not have occurred without Yellow's bearing away, Yellow broke rule 16.1. Penalize Yellow.

CALL UMP 6

- Rule 10 On Opposite Tacks
Rule 16.1 Changing Course
Rule 19.2 Giving room at an Obstruction

Question

Before the start Yellow and Blue, reaching on starboard tack, approach an anchored boat. When Yellow is at the obstruction, she is clear ahead of Blue. Yellow passes to windward of it, bears away alongside it, then gybes in order to sail around its stern. Very soon after Yellow gybes, Blue is still on starboard and gains a small inside overlap. Blue changes course trying to avoid contact with Yellow but there is contact. There is a protest. What should the call be?

Answer

Blue becomes right-of-way boat the moment the boats become overlapped, or when the foot of the mainsail of Yellow crosses the centreline when she gybes, whichever happens first, Yellow gives up her right-of-way, so rule 15 does not apply to her. Yellow must give room to Blue under rule 19.2(b), and keep clear of Blue under rule 10.

Yellow fails to keep clear of Blue. Penalize Yellow.

CALL UMP 7

Definitions Keep Clear

Question

When Blue, a keep-clear boat, passes her bow over Yellow's transom, is Blue keeping clear?

Answer

Yes.

CALL UMP 9

Rule 11	On the Same Tack, Overlapped
Rule 16.1	Changing Course
Rule 17	On the Same Tack; Proper Course
Definitions	Keep Clear and Proper Course

Question 1

Yellow and Blue are sailing parallel courses. Rule 17 does not apply. Blue has adequate room to move away but nevertheless maintains a parallel course. After about 10 seconds Yellow luffs slowly and from the moment the luff starts, there is no longer any means of Blue avoiding Yellow. Blue luffs and there is contact. There is a Y-flag. What should the call be?

Answer 1

When Blue has had an opportunity to keep clear but then sails so close to Yellow that any luff by Yellow will result in contact, Blue fails to keep clear and breaks rule 11. Penalize Blue.

Question 2

Would the answer be different if Blue came down, or Yellow sailed a slightly higher course thereby causing the separation between the boats to decrease?

Answer 2

No.

Question 3

Yellow and Blue are sailing downwind on starboard tack. Yellow establishes an overlap one and a half hull lengths to leeward of Blue. Yellow luffs slowly clearly above a proper course. Blue keeps her course and there is contact. There is a Y-flag. What should the call be?

Answer 3

Penalize Blue and Yellow. Blue breaks rule 11 and Yellow breaks rule 17.

CALL UMP 10

Rule 19.2(a) Giving room at an Obstruction

Question

Before the start, and before approaching any starting mark to start, Yellow and Blue approach a large moored boat with Yellow half a length ahead. It appears that Blue intends to pass across the stern of the large boat, and that Yellow requires room to pass on the same side on the inside of Blue. Blue does not bear away to give room, and at the last moment Yellow avoids the large boat by luffing sharply and going to windward of it. Before the bow of Blue reaches the stern of the large boat, she gybes away so that she does not pass its stern. There is a Y-flag. What should the call be?

Answer

The large boat was an obstruction. Unless Blue elects to pass to windward of it from sufficiently far away, Yellow may assume that they are both going to bear away below the obstruction. It follows that Blue must give room. By not doing so, she broke rule 19.2(a). Penalize Blue.

CALL UMP 11

Rule 16.1 Changing Course Rule C2.4 While Tacking or Gybing

Question 1

Before the start Yellow and Blue are separated and not on a collision course. Blue intends to tack but after passing head to wind she loses way. Before Blue gets to a close-hauled course, Yellow bears away towards Blue. Blue is unable to take any avoiding action that would prevent a collision if Yellow were to stop bearing away. However, Yellow continues to bear away and passes astern of Blue. There is a Y-flag. What should the call be?

Answer 1

Yellow's change of course required her to give Blue room to keep clear (rule 16.1). Yellow complies with rule 16.1 by bearing away continuously. The same answer would apply if Blue had succeeded in completing her tack and lost way. Display the green and white flag.

Question 2

Would the answer change if Blue's helmsman had intentionally handled his boat so as to lose steerage and to place it in a situation where it would not be possible to keep clear if Yellow should change to a collision course?

Answer 2

No. No rule prohibits Blue from being in the position she was in here, whether or not she does so deliberately.

CALL UMP 12

Rules 10 On Opposite Tacks
Rules 16.1 Changing Course

Question 1

Yellow and Blue approach each other. As they pass, Blue is keeping clear to leeward. Yellow luffs and as a result Blue is unable to respond to keep clear. The stern of Yellow makes contact with the port side of Blue. There is a Y-flag. What should the call be?

Answer 1

Yellow breaks rule 16.1 by changing course without giving Blue room to keep clear. Penalize Yellow.

Question 2

Yellow and Blue approach each other. As they pass, Blue is keeping clear to windward. Yellow bears away. Blue is unable to respond and there is contact. There is a Y-flag. What should the call be?

Answer 2

Yellow breaks rule 16.1 by changing course without giving Blue room to keep clear. Penalize Yellow.

CALL UMP 13

Rule 11 On the Same Tack, Overlapped
Section C At Marks and Obstructions: Preamble
Rule 19.2(b) Giving room at an Obstruction

Question 1

Blue and Yellow are approaching the committee boat end of the starting line.
How do the umpires decide if they are approaching a starting mark to start?

Answer 1

In each of Diagrams a, b, and c the boats may be approaching a starting mark to start. The umpires will use the speed and course of the boats in the prevailing conditions and the time remaining before the starting signal to decide if they are approaching a starting mark to start. Since match race starting lines are short, the boats may even be approaching the far end (Diagram b). However, until both umpires agree that the boats are approaching to start, they will decide that they are not (see Call GEN 1).

Question 2

Before starting Blue and Yellow are on the course side of the starting line sailing downwind on port tack. Blue gives room for Yellow to pass the committee boat. There is a Y-flag. What should the call be?

Answer 2

A boat cannot be approaching a mark to start until approaching to pass the mark on the required side. At position 1, Yellow was entitled to room under rule 19.2(b), which was given. This also applies when both boats have been recalled. Display the green and white flag.

CALL UMP 14

Rule 10 On Opposite Tacks
Rule 16.1 Changing Course

Question 1

On a windward leg, Blue and Yellow approach one another. At approximately four hull lengths from Blue, Yellow bears away to avoid Blue. Blue then bears away, so that the boats remain on a collision course. Yellow and Blue continue to bear away in the same way, until they finally pass one another with the wind approximately abeam. At no time does Blue sail a downwind course. There is a Y-flag. What should the call be?

Answer 1

The relevant rule is 16.1, but Blue has not broken it, because throughout the incident she has given Yellow room to keep clear. Display the green and white flag.

Question 2

In similar circumstances, Yellow's course would allow her to cross ahead of Blue, but Blue luffs to a collision course and Yellow tacks away in a seamanlike way. There is a Y-flag. What should the call be?

Answer 2

As in Question 1, the relevant rule is 16.1, and although Blue has forced Yellow to change course, she has not done so without giving her room to keep clear. Display the green and white flag.

CALL UMP 16

Rule 10 On Opposite Tacks
Rule 16.1 Changing Course

Question

Blue and Yellow approach one another on a windward leg. As Yellow bears away to pass Blue's stern, Blue luffs. Yellow attempts to bear away more but there is contact between the port quarter of Blue and the bow of Yellow. There is a Y-flag. What should the call be?

Answer

Provided the umpires are satisfied that Yellow was keeping clear before Blue luffed, Blue broke rule 16.1 by changing course without giving Yellow room. Penalize Blue.

CALL UMP 17

Rule 11 On the Same Tack, Overlapped
Rule 16.1 Changing Course
Rule 17 On the Same Tack; Proper Course

Question 1

Yellow and Blue, close-hauled on port tack, approach the layline near the windward mark. Yellow established her overlap from clear astern. Both sail beyond the layline and are clearly overstanding the mark. Yellow luffs, and is then forced to bear away to avoid contact. There is a Y-flag. What should the call be?

Answer 1

When Yellow luffs it is clear that her only proper course is to luff in order to tack toward the mark. Yellow gives Blue room as required by rule 16.1. Yellow is then unable to sail her course without the need to take avoiding action. Blue does not keep clear and breaks rule 11. Penalize Blue.

Question 2

What would the call be if due to shifty winds and/or rough seas it is not clear whether the boats are over standing the mark?

Answer 2

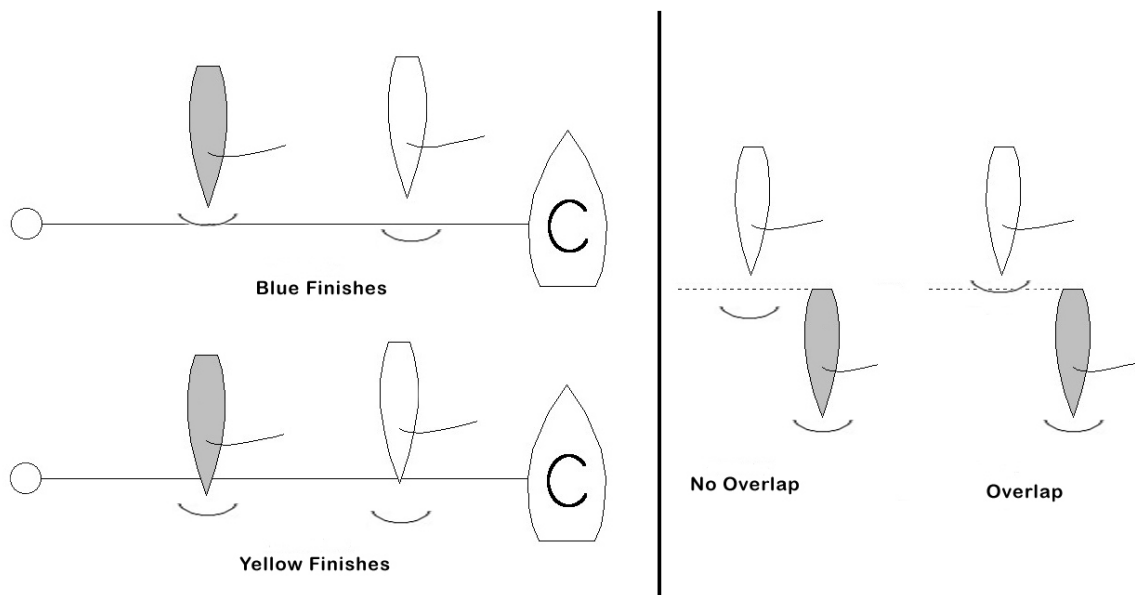

It is not yet clear that her only proper course is on the other tack. Yellow breaks rule 17 by sailing above her proper course (close-hauled). Penalize Yellow, unless as a result she promptly sails astern of Blue. See also Call UMP 9.

CALL UMP 18

Rule C2.1 Changes to the Definitions - definition Finish Definitions Clear Astern and Clear Ahead; Overlap

Question

At a close downwind finish, Yellow eases her spinnaker halyard, sheet and guy so that the sail is further ahead of her bow than normally. When does she finish? What action should the umpires take?

Answer

Yellow finishes when her bow crosses the line. The definition Finish makes it clear that as the spinnaker is not in normal position it cannot be considered for the purpose of finishing.

Judging the finish is solely a matter for the race committee. However, if the umpires see the halyard eased they may advise the race committee, since the umpires may be in a better position to see the spinnaker before the boat crosses the finishing line.

The same reasoning would apply when two boats approach a leeward mark and there is a question about whether they are overlapped.

CALL UMP 19

Rule 17 On the Same Tack; Proper Course Definitions Proper Course

Question

Nearing the end of the downwind leg, the boats are overlapped on starboard tack. Yellow has established an overlap to leeward from clear astern, is governed by rule 17 and is sailing her proper course. Soon her proper course will be to gybe for the mark. When must Yellow begin to bear away to gybe?

Answer

Yellow must begin to gybe at the time she would have borne away to gybe if she had been sailing with no other boat nearby. If she clearly delays beyond that time, she will break rule 17 by sailing above her proper course.

CALL UMP 20

Rule 16.1 Changing Course Definitions Room

Question 1

In the definition of Room, how should the umpires apply the phrase ‘in a seamanlike way’?

Answer 1

The question is addressed in ISAF Case 21, which refers to ‘extraordinary’ and ‘abnormal’ manoeuvres as being ‘unseamanlike’.

However, actions that are not seamanlike in a fleet of many boats may be considered seamanlike in a situation with only two boats. Thus, in match racing some manoeuvres might be considered normal that would be considered abnormal in other racing, and therefore ‘seamanlike way’ should be interpreted somewhat more broadly in match racing.

Any manoeuvre, however, that puts a boat or her crew at unreasonable risk of damage or injury is unseamanlike. The umpires will have to judge each incident on the basis of the boat's actions in relation to the conditions of wind and water that she is experiencing.

Question 2

Blue is close-hauled on port tack and Yellow is close-hauled on starboard tack on a leg to the windward mark. Yellow bears away to a downwind course that is below her proper course and as a result Blue has to change course to keep clear. There is a Y-flag. What should the call be?

Answer 2

Penalize Yellow. Yellow breaks rule 16.1 by not giving Blue room, namely the space to manoeuvre in a seamanlike way.

Questions

Is a spinnaker pole in 'normal position' when the spinnaker is not set but

- (i) one end is attached to the mast and the other end is projecting beyond the bow, or
 - (ii) in the case of an extendable bowsprit-type pole, it is not retracted as fully as it can be
- (a) when the spinnaker is, or is being, set up approaching or passing a mark?
 - (b) when hoisting or lowering the spinnaker?
 - (c) when beating to windward?
 - (d) during pre-start manoeuvres?

Answers

The general test when addressing these questions is 'Is this how the boat would normally be sailed, in the absence of other boats?' This leads to the following more specific answers:

- (a) and (b), for both (i) and (ii):

Yes, if it is the regular practice for the pole to be in that position in the circumstances and the umpires are not of the opinion that the pole had been set up prematurely, or left in position too long, for the purpose of obtaining a tactical advantage (such as the establishment of an artificial overlap).

- (c) and (d), for (i);

Yes, if it is the regular practice for that boat to carry her spinnaker pole in that position. It would not be regular practice if, for example, a boat had her spinnaker pole projecting during pre-start manoeuvres but then removed it for starting, or started without the pole projecting then later changed its position so that it was then projecting.

- (c) and (d), for (ii): No.

CALL UMP 22

Rule 18.1 Mark-Room: When This Rule Applies Rule 18.2(b) Giving Mark-Room

Question 1

Blue and Yellow approach the windward mark on port tack with Blue clear ahead at the zone. The mark is to be rounded to starboard. Blue immediately gybes onto starboard tack. There is a Y-flag. What should the call be?

Answer 1

Rule 18.2(b) requires Yellow to give Blue mark-room. Gybing while rounding the mark is a proper course for Blue, so if in the judgment of the umpires her gybe was part of her mark rounding, Yellow must give Blue room to gybe. Display the green and white flag.

Question 2

How far beyond the mark may Blue sail before gybing and still be entitled to mark-room?

Answer 2

Blue's entitlement to mark-room applies as long as her course is consistent with gybing around the mark on her proper course. When the umpires are certain that Blue has delayed her gybe beyond that point, she is no longer entitled to mark-room.

CALL UMP 24

Rule 11 On the Same Tack, Overlapped Rule 18.2 Giving Mark-Room

Question 1

Blue and Yellow are approaching a mark to be left to starboard. Rule 17 does not apply to Blue. What is the latest time Blue may luff?

Answer 1

Rule 18 begins to apply when any part of the hull of either boat is in the zone. From this moment, if Blue luffs and thereafter has to bear away in order to give Yellow mark-room, then Blue breaks rule 18.2. Blue does not break rule 18.2 if she is able to luff while giving mark-room. Yellow is required to keep clear under rule 11. However, she will be exonerated under rule 18.5(a) if she breaks rule 11 because Blue fails to give her mark-room.

Question 2

If Blue has to bear away to give mark-room, when is she required to do so?

Answer 2

Blue is required to bear away promptly from the moment the first of the boats is in the zone.

Rule 49.1 Crew Positioning

Question 1

One crew member on Yellow holds on to the leeward jibsheet and another one holds on to the main sail sheet when hiking out. Does Yellow break rule 49.1?

Answer 1

No. A working sheet is not a device designed to position the body outboard.

Question 2

Does Yellow (a boat without lifelines) break rule 49.1 when the crew use any of the following to help extend their bodies outboard?

The windward, non working, jib sheet; the barber hauler; the vang control line; the mainsheet traveller line; the backstay control line; the shrouds or other elements of standing rigging

Answer 2

Rule 49.1 does not prohibit competitors from using working sheets or control lines to position their bodies outboard.

Unless specifically prohibited by the event's sailing instructions (Rules for handling the boats) it is also permissible for competitors to use the shrouds or hand rails to position their bodies outboard.

The use of lazy (non-working) sheets and control lines for hiking breaks rule 49.1.

Question 3

The skipper on Yellow holds a foot under the traveller bridge. Does Yellow break rule 49.1?

Answer 3

No. A traveller bridge is not a device designed to position the body outboard. Using the traveller bridge (or other fixed features of the boat) without modifications that aid projecting the body outboard is permitted.

Rule 16.1 Changing Course
Rule 19 Room to Pass an Obstruction
Definitions Mark and Obstruction

Question

The situation occurs in the pre-start, with approx. 2 minutes to the starting signal. The committee boat is also a starting mark.

Between situations 3 and 4 Blue makes a big and rapid change of course, backing her jib to bear away and does not give Yellow room to keep clear. There is contact between Blue and Yellow. Both boats Y-flag. What should the call be?

Answer

Penalize Blue. Rule 19, together with the relevant rules of Section A and B applies when the boats are passing the committee boat in the pre-start, so when Blue changes course she must comply with rule 16.1. Blue is a right way boat changing course. She did not give Yellow room to keep clear and broke rule 16.1.

CALL UMP 28

Rule 15 Acquiring Right of Way
Rule 17 On the Same Tack; Proper Course

Question

On a downwind course Yellow establishes an overlap to windward of Blue with her spinnaker. Yellow bears away, without breaking the overlap, and overlaps to leeward.

Do rules 15 and 17 apply?

Answer

Yes. At the moment Yellow becomes right of way as the leeward boat, rules 15 and 17 begin to apply.

CALL UMP 29

Rule 11	On the Same tack
Rule 16.1	Changing Course
Definitions	Keep Clear and Room

Question 1

Shortly after the start Yellow and Blue are close-hauled on port tack. The boats are overlapped and Yellow is keeping clear to windward. Rule 17 does not apply. As the boats pass to leeward of mark L, an inflatable buoy that is not a mark on this leg, Blue luffs and Yellow responds. Yellow stops luffing when she hits the mark amidships, which causes Blue to curtail her luff. Both boats display flag Y. What should the call be?

Answer 1

When Blue, the right of way boat, changes course she has to give room according to rule 16.1. It is not seamanlike to hit a mark. Penalize Blue.

Because mark L is not a mark on this leg, rules 18 and 31 do not apply.

Question 2

Would the answer be the same if the boats were passing to leeward of an object that was not big enough to rank as an obstruction, but nevertheless limited her ability to respond and/or could cause damage to the hull or foils?

Answer 2

Yes. Provided Yellow was initially keeping clear, Blue must give her room to respond in a seamanlike way when she changes course.

Rule 18.2	Giving Mark-Room
Definitions	Mark-Room

Question 1

Yellow enters the zone clear ahead of Blue. Both boats tack and continue to round the mark. Blue becomes overlapped inside Yellow. Both boats Y-flag, what should the call be?

Answer 1

When Yellow enters the zone, rule 18.2(b) applies until Yellow passes head to wind. When Yellow becomes overlapped to windward and on the inside of Blue in position 3, mark-room includes room for Yellow to tack. After she has been given room to tack, 18.2(b) ceases to apply. From the moment Blue becomes overlapped inside Yellow, rule 18.2(a) applies.

Because this overlap is established from clear astern rule 18.2(e) applies and Yellow is only required to give mark-room provided she has been able to do so from the time the overlap began. Since Yellow is unable to give mark-room, she is not required to give it.

If the overlap was created by Blue bearing away, then rule 15 applies and Blue must initially give Yellow room to keep clear. If Yellow is unable to keep clear, penalize Blue.

If the overlap was created by Yellow bearing away, Blue acquires right of way, at least in part, through Yellow's actions. Therefore the second part of rule 15 applies, so Blue does not have to give Yellow room to keep clear. Penalize Yellow.

Because the overlap is established from clear astern, rule 17 applies.

Question 2

Yellow and Blue enter the zone overlapped. Both boats tack and continue to round the mark. Blue becomes overlapped inside Yellow. Yellow's boom touches Blue's hull. Both boats Y-flag, what should the call be?

Question

Blue and Yellow approach the windward mark overlapped on port tack with Yellow to leeward and on the layline at the zone. Rule 17 does not apply to Yellow. Before Yellow passes the mark she luffs Blue head to wind. Blue responds to the luff and keeps clear. There is a Y-flag. What should the call be?

Answer

Blue is required by rule 11 to keep clear and by rule 18 to give mark-room - and she does so. When Yellow luffs, rule 16.1 requires her to give Blue room to keep clear. However, rule 17 does not apply, and nothing in the rules prevents Yellow from sailing above her proper course while the boats are passing the mark.

Rule 16.1 Changing Course Definitions Room

Question 1

Blue is sailing to leeward of Yellow. Rule 17 does not apply. Both boats have spinnakers set. Blue luffs Yellow. What are the obligations on Blue and Yellow?

Answer 1

Yellow is required to keep clear and Blue is required to give Yellow room to respond to her luff. While Yellow is able to keep the majority of her spinnaker filled and drawing she is not entitled to additional room to drop her spinnaker.

If Blue continues her luff so that Yellow, in order to keep clear, has to luff beyond the point where she can keep her spinnaker filled and drawing, then Blue must give Yellow room to drop her spinnaker.

Whether or not Yellow drops her spinnaker at that time, she is still required to keep clear. If she does not drop her spinnaker at that time, then Blue is not required to give her additional room to drop the spinnaker later in that luff.

Question 2

If Yellow does not drop her spinnaker and passes head to wind to keep clear, is Blue giving Yellow room to keep clear in a seamanlike way?

Answer 2

Yes. Blue may continue to luff as long as she has previously given Yellow room to drop her spinnaker.

Question 3

Does either answer change if Blue does not have a spinnaker set, or if Blue has a different type of spinnaker set?

Answer 3

No.

Rule 18.1

Mark-Room; When Rule 18 Applies

Rule 18.2

Giving Mark-room

Question 1

Yellow on starboard tack and Blue on port tack, both close-hauled, are approaching the windward mark. Blue bears away and passes astern of Yellow. Yellow luffs slowly and nearly stops head to wind with the mark abeam. While Yellow is luffing Blue tacks to starboard and bears away towards the mark. Yellow does not give room at the mark, and Blue luffs to avoid a collision. There is a Y-flag from Blue. What should the call be?

Answer 1

When Yellow enters the zone the boats are on opposite tacks on a beat to windward. Therefore, rule 18 does not apply. When Blue has passed head-to-wind, the boats are overlapped on the same tack and are both in the zone. Therefore, rule 18 applies. There was neither an overlap nor were they clear ahead/clear astern when the first of the two boats entered the zone. Rule 18.2(a) applies and this requires Yellow to give Blue as an inside boat mark-room. 18.2(e) does not apply because the overlap was created during the tack and not from clear astern. Although Blue is keep-clear boat, she is entitled to room to sail to the mark and then room to sail her proper course while at the mark. Yellow fails to give this room. Penalize Yellow.

Question 2

Would the answer be different if Blue completes her tack outside the zone?

Answer 2

No. However, if Blue becomes overlapped from clear astern, and if Yellow is unable to give Blue mark-room, rule 18.2(e) applies. Display the green and white flag.

If Yellow is able to give mark-room to Blue, but fails to give mark-room, she breaks rule 18.2(b). Penalize Yellow.

Position 1

Before the start Yellow and Blue are on opposite tacks with both boats head to wind. After some time both begin moving astern. At no time does either move astern by backing a sail.

Position 2

Both reach a close-hauled course, but continue moving astern.

Position 3

Blue begins to move forward on a course to pass in front of Yellow. Yellow continues to move astern.

Position 4

Yellow begins to move forward, and from this moment Blue can no longer pass in front of Yellow. Blue immediately luffs to tack.

Position 5

Blue tacks, but before she reaches close hauled Yellow luffs to avoid contact. There is a Y-flag. What should the call be?

Answer

Although Yellow did not appear to change compass course between positions 2 and 4, she did change course by reversing the direction in which she was travelling (astern to ahead). Rule 16.1 required Yellow to give room to Blue, which she did by luffing at position 5. Display the green and white flag.

18.2 (b)	Giving Mark-Room

Definitions	Proper Course

Question 1

Yellow is approaching the leeward mark below the layline and is clear ahead of Blue at the zone. Very shortly thereafter Blue becomes overlapped outside and to windward of Yellow. At position 5 Blue displays her Y-flag. What should the call be?

Answer 1

Yellow is clear ahead when she enters the zone. Rule 18.2(b) applies and Blue must give her mark-room. When Blue becomes overlapped on the outside, she is required by rule 11 to keep clear of Yellow. Blue gives room and keeps clear.

From the moment the boats overlap until Yellow gybes, rule 18.4 also applies and Yellow shall sail no farther from the mark than her proper course. The umpires must consider factors such as the type of boat, current, wind strength and waves to decide whether Yellow complies with this rule. If the umpires decide that Yellow sails farther from the mark than she would in the absence of Blue while rule 18.4 applies, then Yellow breaks rule 18.4. Penalize Yellow. If not, display the green and white flag.

Question 2

Would the call be different if Yellow was having a problem lowering her spinnaker?

Answer 2

No. Neither the room that has to be given by Blue nor the course that must be sailed by Yellow is changed by unseamanlike boat handling.

Question 1

Blue and Yellow are overlapped on port tack, with Yellow as the leeward, right-of-way boat. They approach a continuing obstruction on courses that make it clear that Yellow is the inside boat, or at an angle of approximately 90 degrees to the shoreline so that it is unclear which boat will be the inside boat when they reach the obstruction. Yellow begins to luff or maintains her course and Blue keeps clear. When Yellow is approximately one and a half lengths from the obstruction she suddenly bears away and passes the obstruction to port leaving Blue clear astern. There is a Y-flag. What should the call be?

Answer 1

Rule 11 applies, and rule 19 also applies when it becomes clear that the boats are at the obstruction. Yellow has right of way and can choose to luff or bear away as she pleases provided she complies with rule 16.1. If Yellow and Blue bear away to pass the obstruction to port, Yellow must give room to Blue while the boats are overlapped. If Blue becomes clear astern, she must comply with rule 19.2(c). In the situations shown, no rules are broken. Display the green and white flag.

Question 2

In the pre-start, Blue and Yellow overlapped on port tack approach the outer end of a dock. Before the boats are at the obstruction, Yellow, to leeward, luffs slightly and Blue keeps clear. Yellow suddenly bears away, leaving the obstruction to port. Blue leaves the obstruction to starboard. There is a Y-flag. What should the call be?

Answer 2

Yellow has right of way and may choose to luff or bear away as she pleases provided she complies with rule 16.1. Display the green and white flag.

Question

In the pre-start, Blue and Yellow are both on the same tack with Yellow clear ahead. Both boats start moving astern by backing their sails and are still not overlapped.

Which boat has the right-of-way?

Answer

Rule 21.3 does not apply, because both boats are moving astern by backing a sail. According to the definition Blue is clear astern and therefore required by rule 12 to keep clear.

Rule C4.2 Requirements Before the Start

Question 1

Blue is not outside her assigned end of the starting line at the preparatory signal. As a result Yellow is able to prevent her from crossing the line within the two-minute period. Blue did not cross the line from the course side before starting. What should the umpires do?

Answer 1

Impose two penalties on Blue. One is for breaking rule C4.1, because she was not outside her assigned end; the other is for breaking rule C4.2, because she did not cross the line from the course side within the two-minute period. These rules were broken in two separate incidents, and therefore each requires a penalty.

Question 2

If a boat has not crossed within the two-minute period, is she still obligated to cross before starting?

Answer 2

No. Although she has broken rule C4.2, there is no requirement that she cross the line after the two-minute period has ended.

At the starting signal she luffs just enough to cross the starting line and before becoming close-hauled, she bears away, gybes, and sails off on a close-hauled course on the other tack. Has she taken the penalty as required by rule C7?

Answer

Yes. The boat was required to start before taking her penalty, but she did not have to begin taking it from a close-hauled course.

Question 1

Just after starting, Yellow, on port, bears away and gybes to take a penalty. Blue, also on port, but on a track to leeward of Yellow, tacks to starboard, and as a result is on a collision course with Yellow. Yellow is forced to change course to pass behind Blue before completing her penalty and Y-flags. What should the call be?

Answer 1

Green and white flag. The 'except when sailing her proper course' phrase in rule 23.2 permits Blue to interfere with Yellow, provided Blue does not break rule 16.1. She has a choice of proper courses and may therefore choose one that will maximise her interference with Yellow. Sailing on either tack can be a proper course.

Question 2

Within the meaning of rule C2.9, if Blue is sailing her proper course, is she permitted to disadvantage Green in a different match?

Answer 2

Yes. When the umpires are satisfied that Blue sailed her proper course, this is consistent with trying to win her own match, by definition, and breaks no rule.

If the umpires are satisfied that the boat's actions were not intended to help her in her own match, but were intended to affect the results of the other match, then Blue breaks rule C2.9. Green may Y-flag under rule C6.1(a).

Question 3

Approaching a leeward mark, Blue is close astern of Green, but they are racing in different matches. Blue luffs to blanket Green, slows her down, and gains an inside overlap. Green must therefore give room to Blue and does so. Has Blue broken rule C2.9?

Answer 3

No. Although Green is definitely disadvantaged by Blue's actions, Blue's actions helped her to round the mark in the shortest possible time, and were therefore 'consistent with ... trying to win her own match'. See Answer 2.

CALL MR 6

Rule 28 Sailing the Course
Rule C2.1 Changes to the Definitions—definition Finish

Question 1

When a boat delays taking her penalty until the finish, is she allowed to take it around the finishing mark?

Answer 1

Yes. Although she sails through the finishing line, she does not finish because she has not yet taken her penalty; see Definition of Finish (rule C2.1). Her penalty is to tack and, as soon as reasonably possible, bear away to a downwind course in accordance with rule C7.2(a)(2). See also rule C7.2(d).

Question 2

Did she comply with rule 28, Sailing the course?

Answer 2

Yes. Rule 28 requires that ‘a string representing her track’ would ‘pass each mark on the required side’, which it did. The rule does not prohibit a boat from rounding a finishing mark (or any other mark) even though as a result her track would pass it on the required side twice.

While sailing under spinnakers, there is contact between Yellow and Blue, and Blue receives a small hole in her spinnaker. Yellow is at fault, and is penalized. On a later downwind leg the hole in Blue's spinnaker becomes a major tear. The spinnaker loses all pressure and Yellow is able to pass Blue. What action is available?

Answer

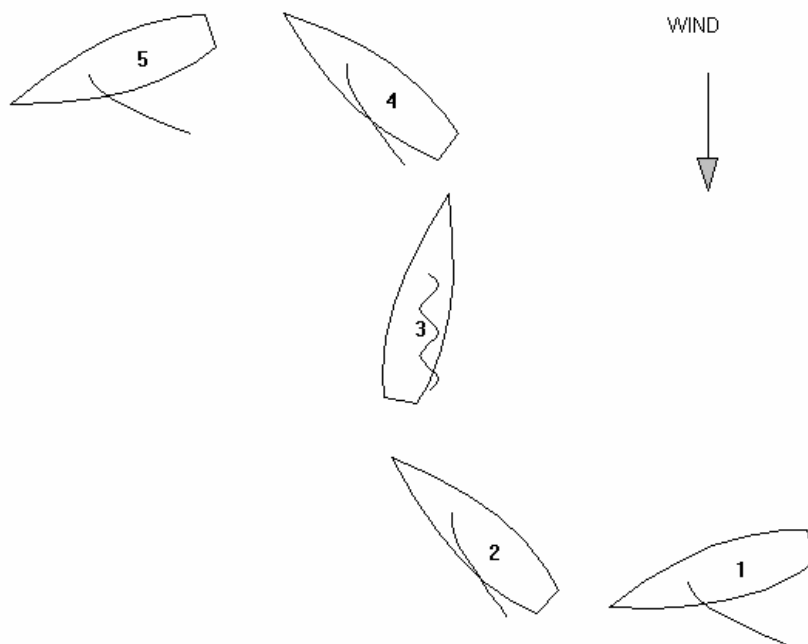

- (a) The umpires could further penalize Yellow as a penalized boat that has 'gained an advantage by breaking a rule after allowing for a penalty'. Although there has been a delay between the taking of the penalty and the gaining of the advantage, the umpires may still act under rule C8.3(a), if they are satisfied that the spinnaker tear is the result of the original rule breach.
- (b) The umpires could initiate a post-race hearing under rule C8.4 to investigate whether rule 14 was broken.
- (c) In accordance with rule C6.1(b), Blue can red-flag under rule 14, because of damage resulting from contact. The protest committee would need to consider whether the flag was displayed at the first reasonable opportunity after the tear developed.
- (d) Blue could request redress under rule 62.1(b) or redress could be considered under rule 60.3(b).

Rule C7 Penalty System

Question

Yellow is required to take a tack penalty. May she take it by luffing until she passes head to wind, then turn back to a close-hauled course on her initial tack?

Answer

No, for the purpose of taking a penalty, tacking is to change course from close-hauled on one tack, through head to wind, to close-hauled on the other.

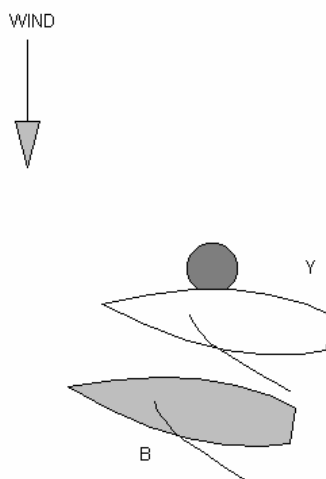

As soon as Yellow passes head to wind rule 13.1 applies and she must keep clear. Although rule C7.4(a) states that 'a boat with an outstanding penalty that is on a leg to a leeward mark or the finishing line and passes head to wind, is taking a penalty', a boat attempting a penalty in the manner described does not comply with rule C7.2(a)(2) and the umpires shall signal that the boat is no longer taking a penalty and that the penalty remains.

Question

Blue and Yellow are rounding a mark and Yellow touches it. Neither boat Y-flags. The umpires see Yellow hit the mark, but in their judgement Blue did not give Yellow sufficient room to pass the mark. Should they take any action?

Answer

The umpires should give no signal. Although Blue broke rule 18.2(a) or (b), she cannot be penalized because no boat protested, and rule C8.2 does not permit umpires to initiate a penalty when a boat breaks a rule of Part 2.

Yellow broke rule 31 by touching the mark. However, rule C8.1(b) makes it clear that she is exonerated under rule 64.1(c).

At the end of a downwind leg, just as Blue reaches the zone, Yellow hails 'Overlap', but Blue has just seen the wing boat signal the umpires that there was no overlap. May Blue rely on the wing boat's signal and thereby decide to deny room to Yellow?

No. Competitors who use such signals take a considerable risk. Decisions are made by the umpires, not the wing boats, and an umpires' decision may not be based on the wing boat's signals.

The same principle applies to signals made by onboard observers.

Yellow on starboard and Blue on port are sailing towards each other. When they are about to meet, Yellow is penalized and required to take an immediate penalty (the penalty was either a red flag penalty or her second penalty).
When does the right of way change?

Answer

The right of way does not change until it is clear that Yellow is taking her penalty.

This is when she passes head to wind or the foot of her mainsail crosses the centreline, as appropriate.

Blue will acquire right of way by the action of Yellow and so Blue will not need to give room to Yellow under rule 15.

Question

After the umpires signal their decision in response to a boat's Y-flag, persons on one of the boats make it clear that they are unhappy with the decision. Should the umpires impose a penalty under rule C8.3(c) for a 'breach of sportsmanship'?

Answer

This depends on the words, the manner in which they are spoken, and any other related actions of the crew of the boat. If they merely express unhappiness or disappointment, or that in their opinion the decision was wrong, then a penalty is not appropriate. However, if the total effect is to convey that the umpires are incompetent, or are prejudiced against the penalized boat, a penalty may be justified, whether the meaning is directed only at the umpires or also to others nearby. If the meaning is clearly insulting to the umpires, a penalty should be imposed.

Answer 1

No. Rule C9.3 prohibits any 'proceedings' because of non-action by umpires. 'Proceedings' includes a request for redress.

Question 2

Blue Y-flags, but due to engine failure the umpires do not see the incident. What should they do?

Answer 2

Rule C7 Penalty System

Question 1

Rule C7.3(c) requires a boat with two penalties to take one of them ‘as soon as reasonably possible’. Rule C7.3(d) requires a boat with a red flag penalty to take her penalty ‘as soon as reasonably possible’. How must she comply with this requirement when the proximity of another boat or an obstruction, or both, prevent her from luffing or bearing away to begin her penalty tack or penalty gybe?

Answer 1

She may delay bearing away (luffing, when the penalty is to tack) until there is no likelihood of her making contact with the other boat or the obstruction, but when the obstruction is continuing or when the other boat obstructs her and by sailing a parallel course continues to obstruct her, she must tack (or gybe) to get clear or she may reduce speed until she is no longer obstructed by the other boat. Should the other boat then tack to prevent her from taking the penalty, she must again tack to further attempt to get clear.

Question 2

A boat with a penalty is penalized again. Part of the penalty would be within two of her hull lengths of a rounding mark were she to take the penalty immediately. What is she required to do before taking a penalty?

Answer 2

She may sail the course she would have sailed without the second penalty until she can take the second penalty without any of the penalty being taken within the zone. She must then take the penalty.

Question 3

A boat with a penalty is penalized again while her spinnaker is set. What is she required to do?

Answer 1

Green and white flag. Rule C7.2(b) allows a boat to take a penalty before being signalled to do so. Rule C5.1 says the green and white flag means 'No penalty'. Here no penalty is imposed because it was already taken.

Question 2

Would the answer be different if Yellow had an outstanding penalty?

Answer 2

No. The umpires would green and white flag and Yellow's penalty would remain

Question 3

Near the end of a windward leg the umpires decide to penalize Blue but delay signalling her until she has rounded the mark. However, she takes the penalty before rounding the mark. Is this allowed?

Answer 3

Yes — see Answer 1. However, under rule C7.3(b) she is not allowed to take any part of a penalty within the zone of a rounding mark.

Question 4

Yellow, with a penalty, breaks a right-of-way rule, is protested by Blue, sees Blue's Y-flag and takes her penalty before being signalled by the umpires. At the time she sees the Y-flag, she is rounding a mark. Should she take the penalty appropriate to the leg she is on or the one appropriate for the time of the umpire's signal?

Rule C2.7 requires clear and repeated arm signals, in addition to hails. If there is an arm signal but no hail from Yellow, what action should the umpires take

- a) if Blue Y-flags?
- b) on their own initiative?

Answer 1

- a) When the umpires are certain that no hail was made, then the signal for room to tack has not been made. (The umpires may be certain there was no hail if they have had no difficulty hearing other calls from a similar position.) For the purpose of the rules of Part 2 they should act as if there has been no signal.

Yellow, to leeward of Green, cannot tack and clear Green. Blue and Yellow are on a collision course. Yellow hails and signals for room to tack. Green does not respond, Yellow is unable to tack, Blue is forced to change course to keep clear. Blue and Yellow Y-flag. What should the umpires do?

Answer 1

If the umpires of the match between Blue and Yellow are certain that Green broke rule 20.1(b) they should display a green and white flag indicating that no penalty is imposed on Yellow or Blue. They should advise the umpires for Green's match that Green should be penalized. Rule C8.1(b) permits the umpires to exonerate Yellow without a hearing.

If Yellow does not Y-flag, would the answer be different?

Answer 2

No. The umpires response would be the same. The umpires may also consider penalizing Green under rule C8.3(b) or (c).

- Rule 62 Redress
- Rule C9.2 Requests for Redress—Official boat interfering with competing boat
- Rule C9.3 Other Proceedings—following action or non-action by umpires

Question

Under what circumstances should a match in progress be abandoned?

Answer

After the preparatory signal a match should be abandoned only when the umpires and race committee are sure that a claim for redress would be upheld were the adversely affected boat to lose the match or for reasons of safety. It is then preferable to abandon the match immediately. The following are examples:

- a) a late or incorrect recall signal.
- b) serious interference with a competing boat by an umpire or other official boat.

During the preparatory period the match may also be postponed.

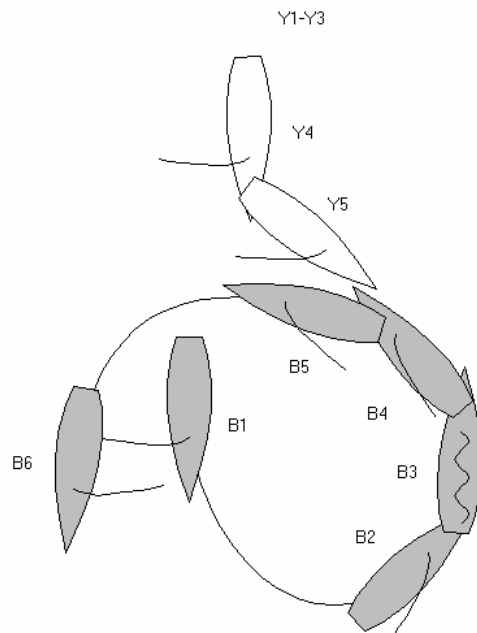

A match should not be postponed or abandoned due to an incorrect umpire signal. In this case rule C9.3 applies.

Rule 21.2 Taking Penalties Rule C7 Penalty System

Question

Blue and Yellow are sailing downwind on port tack. Blue has an outstanding penalty. She luffs, passes head to wind, and bears away to a close-hauled course on starboard tack. Yellow changes course to avoid a collision before Blue achieves a downwind course. Blue continues to bear away and achieves a downwind course. Both boats Y-flag. What should the call be?

Answer

Signal that Blue has completed a penalty and then penalize Blue again. Blue did comply with rule C7.2(a)(2) and so completed a penalty. However, before returning to a downwind course she broke rule 21.2.

Question

Blue has a penalty outstanding as she approaches the finishing line. She lowers her spinnaker, luffs, passes head to wind, returns to a close-hauled course on the other tack, reverses her mainsail and sails backwards across the finishing line, now above close-hauled. Has she finished?

Answer

No. Blue cannot finish until she has taken her penalty. She has not borne away to a downwind course as required by rule C7.2(a)(2). The umpires will signal as required in rule C5.6 that the boat is no longer taking a penalty and that the penalty remains.

Question 1

Blue, to windward, fails to keep clear of Yellow to leeward. Yellow protests and Blue is penalized. Some time later Yellow protests again. When should the umpires consider that a rule is broken a second time?

Question 2

Blue has been penalized for sailing above a proper course, continues to do so and there is another protest from Yellow. When should the umpires consider that a rule is broken a second time?

Answer 1 and 2

When the umpires are satisfied that Blue could have taken action to stop breaking the rule after the first penalty is signalled, but fails to do so, then they consider that the rule is broken a second time. The umpires may also decide that the second breach is deliberate and initiate a penalty without any Y-flag being flown.

CALL MR 31

Rule C8.3(b) Penalties Initiated by Umpires—deliberately breaking a rule

Question

How will the umpires decide if a rule was broken deliberately?

Answer

There is no complete clear-cut answer, but rather a sliding scale of likelihood. The umpires are likely to conclude that a rule was broken deliberately when:

- the situation has built up for some time rather than occurred instantaneously;
- there is a potentially match-winning tactical gain from breaking the rule;
- the breach does not seem to be a simple misjudgement.

Examples could be:

- breaking a rule to avoid being OCS (windward boat bears down on leeward boat);
- Blue cannot lay the pin and tacks onto port (see Diagram above);
- barging at a starting mark;
- denying an inside boat room at the mark.

CALL MR 32

Rule C7.2(a)(1) Penalty System: All Penalties - penalties to a windward mark

Rule C7.2(a)(2) Penalty System: All Penalties - penalties to a leeward mark or the finishing line

Question

The required penalties vary depending upon whether a boat is sailing 'to a windward mark' or 'to a leeward mark'. Because a boat has sailed beyond a mark, or because of a new wind direction, a boat could be sailing free to a mark that was intended to be a windward mark, or sailing close-hauled to a mark that was intended to be a leeward mark. What penalties are then required?

Answer

A boat is to be considered to be sailing to a windward mark or to a leeward mark at all times when sailing to a mark that has been described in the sailing instructions as a windward or leeward mark. The description could be expressed in words, or shown by a diagram indicating wind direction, or by designating marks as either 'Mark W' or 'Mark L'.

In the usual match racing course configuration with two upwind and two downwind legs, a boat sailing the first and third legs is considered to be sailing 'to a windward mark', and when sailing the second leg is considered to be sailing 'to a leeward mark', irrespective of the boat's heading or the wind direction.

Because a boat may have sailed beyond a mark, or because of a new wind direction, it would be possible for the boat to be sailing close-hauled yet be on 'a leg of the course to a leeward mark', or be sailing free on 'a leg to a windward mark'.

CALL MR 33

Rule C7 Penalty System

Rule C8.3 Penalties Initiated by Umpires - gaining an advantage

Question 1

Yellow is penalized before she starts. Later she and Blue both start on port tack, with Yellow to leeward but approximately four hull lengths ahead of Blue. Yellow bears away, gybes, then luffs to close-hauled on starboard tack. Soon afterward rule 10 requires Blue to change course to avoid Yellow. Has Yellow 'gained an advantage over the other boat' in the context of rule C8.3(a)?

Answer 1

No. Rule C8.3(a) refers to situations in which the advantage that a boat gains from breaking a rule is greater than the disadvantage she suffers by taking the penalty. Here the advantage that the penalized boat gained as a starboard tack boat after taking her penalty is unrelated to the advantage referred to in rule C8.3(a).

Question 2

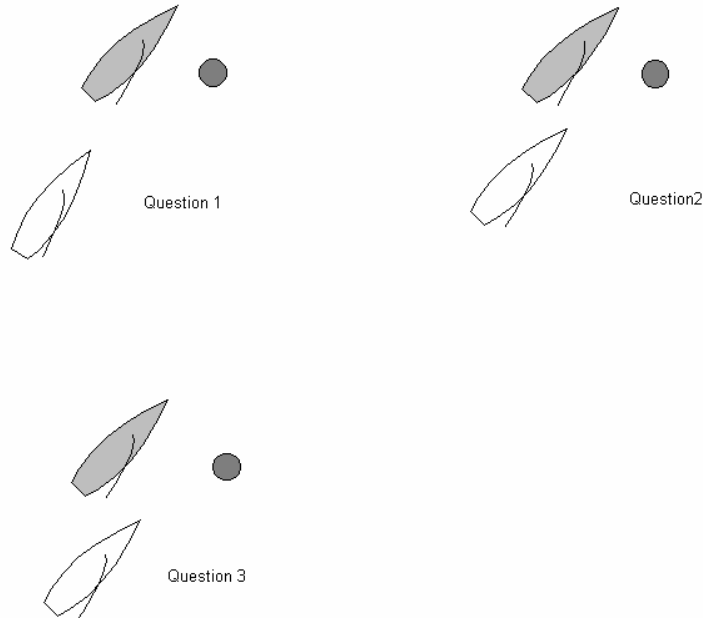

The boats are close together on a windward leg and one is penalized. After gybing she sails away on the opposite tack and immediately gains from a major wind-shift. Has she 'gained an advantage' from the penalty?

Answer 2

No. See Answer 1.

CALL MR 34

Rule 17 Rule C2.6 On the Same Tack: Proper Course Tacking When Approaching a Mark

Question 1

Blue completes her tack in the position shown as Question 1. Yellow is clear astern and can avoid an inside overlap by luffing. May Yellow create an inside overlap? What rules apply?

Answer 1

Yes. Yellow may create an inside overlap but rule C2.6(b) applies and she must give Blue mark-room. As Yellow established an overlap from clear astern she is also subject to rule 17 and shall not sail above her proper course unless in doing so she promptly sails astern of Blue.

Question 2

Blue completes her tack in the position shown as Question 2. Yellow is clear astern but cannot avoid an inside overlap by luffing. May Yellow create an inside overlap? What rules apply?

Answer 2

Rule C2.6 applies. Yellow is entitled to mark-room and Blue must keep clear of Yellow. In addition, Yellow is not required to give Blue room to keep clear as rule C2.6 states that rule 15 does not apply. As Yellow established an overlap from astern she is subject to rule 17 and shall not sail above her proper course unless in doing so she promptly sails astern of Blue.

Question 3

Blue completes her tack in the position shown as Question 3. Yellow is overlapped inside. What rules apply?

Answer 3

Rule C2.6 applies. Yellow is entitled to mark-room and Blue must keep clear of Yellow. In addition, Yellow is not required to give Blue room to keep clear as rule C2.6 states that rule 15 does not apply. As the overlap was established before Blue completed her tack rule 17 does not apply and Yellow may sail above her proper course.

Rule C2.6 Tacking at a Mark

Question

Yellow tacks within the zone and Blue becomes overlapped on the inside. The umpires are not certain Blue could avoid becoming overlapped by luffing.

Answer

Green and white flag. When the umpires are not certain that Blue could avoid becoming overlapped by luffing, they shall presume that she could not.

Question

After starting, Yellow is penalized, and the penalty is signalled with a yellow and a red flag in accordance with rule C5.3 and C6.5(b). After a period of time, the umpires decide that Yellow has not taken the penalty as soon as reasonably possible. What should the umpires do?

Answer

Rule 11 On the same tack, Overlapped
Rule 18.2(a) Giving Mark-Room
Rule 21.2 Taking Penalties

Question

Yellow, ahead of Blue, is taking a penalty around the finishing mark. As Yellow tacks and bears away on port, Blue, approaching the mark on starboard, bears away and gybes to port. There is a Y-flag. What should the call be?

Answer

When Yellow passes head to wind, she begins taking a penalty and must keep clear under rule 21.2 until she completes her penalty by bearing away to a downwind course. In addition, rule 18.2(a) applies, since the boats are overlapped and in the zone. An alteration of course by Blue may be either to keep clear of Yellow, or to give Yellow mark-room, or both.

If Blue is required to alter course before Yellow completes her penalty, Yellow is not keeping clear under rule 21.2 even if Blue is altering course to give mark-room. Signal that Yellow has completed her penalty and penalize Yellow again for breaking rule 21.2. See Call MR 28.

If Blue's alteration of course is not required until after Yellow completes her penalty, display the green and white flag.

Question

Approaching an obstruction, Yellow and Blue are sailing upwind on the same tack. Blue hails and signals Yellow for room to tack. Yellow believes that Blue is sailing below a close-hauled course and she ignores the hail. Both boats protest. What should the call be?

Answer

When the hailing boat is sailing upwind, the hailed boat must always respond to the hail in accordance with rule 20.1(b). Penalize Yellow. In addition, if Blue hailed for room to tack when it was clear that the requirements in rule 20.1 and 20.3 were not met, then Blue broke rule 20. Penalize Blue.

Rule 16.1 Changing Course
Rule C7.2 All Penalties
Rule C7.3(d) Penalty Limitations
Rule C8.3 Penalties Initiated By Umpires

Question 1

Yellow and Blue are sailing downwind with Blue overlapped to windward of Yellow. Rule 17 does not apply. Yellow luffs slowly and Blue responds, but Blue's response is not enough for her to keep clear. There is contact between Blue's spinnaker and Yellow's rigging. Blue is blocking Yellow's wind and she overtakes Yellow. There is a Y-flag. What should the call be?

Answer 1

If Blue could have kept clear but either responded too slowly or not enough, then Blue has broken rule 11. Penalize Blue.

If in addition the umpires are satisfied that Blue has broken a rule deliberately or has gained an advantage by breaking the rule after allowing for a penalty, they would give Blue a second penalty under rule C8.3. If the umpires were not satisfied that either of these conditions existed, but are satisfied that Blue gained a controlling position because of the breach, the umpires would give Blue a red flag penalty under rule C8.3. See CALL MR 31.

Question 2

Would the answer be different if the Yellow had an outstanding penalty?

Answer 2

No. However, if Blue was given a red flag penalty under rule C8.3, this would not offset Yellow's outstanding penalty (C7.2(e)). Blue would have to take her penalty as soon as reasonably possible and Yellow would still have an outstanding penalty.

Question 3

Would the answer be different if the boats are getting closer to the finishing line and Yellow has an outstanding penalty?

Answer 3

No. However, in this situation it is more likely that the conditions for a double penalty are met.

If a double penalty has been signalled to Blue, the first penalty will offset Yellow's penalty (C.7.2(e)). Blue will not be recorded as finishing until she completes her second penalty and then finishes (C7.2(d)).
