

NCCDPHP

HEALTHY TRIBES

RESOURCE DIGEST

Welcome to Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's (CDC) tribal resource digest for the week of June 8, 2020. The purpose of this digest is to help you connect with the tools and resources you may need to do valuable work in your communities.

Announcements

Great Resources for Remote Facilitation:

Slow down: a reminder for facilitators working online

Check-in Success - Question Archive

The Definitive Guide to Facilitating Remote Workshops

Public Transportation on Indian Reservations: Tribal Transit Program

Funding to support planning, capital, and operating assistance for tribal public transit services. Among other things, this funding supports partnerships working to expand access to health, medical, and social service providers. Read more here.

Application Due: August 24, 2020

Webinars

Substance Use During a Pandemic: Two Public Health Crises Collide

National Indian Health Board is presenting the second Mental and Behavioral Health webinar will explore substance use and misuse during the COVID-10 pandemic in American Indian and Alaska Natives (AI/AN) communities. The discussion will include general background on substance use; how feelings of anxiety, fear, stress and/or worry during the current global pandemic may contribute to increased use; resources and coping mechanisms that may help; and treatment and harm reduction strategies that could help those struggling with addiction; as well as time for questions and answers with all attendees. This webinar is designed for community members, Tribal health and behavioral health professionals, Tribal leaders, and partners alike. RSVP here.

Date: June 11, 2020 3:00 - 4:00pm ET

Traditional Indigenous Medicine in North America: A Review

Despite the documented continued use of traditional healing methods, modalities and its associated practitioners by Indigenous groups across North America, widespread knowledge is elusive amongst most Western trained health professionals and systems. A systematic search of multiple databases was performed, with consequent title and abstract review of articles published on traditional Indigenous medicine in the North American context utilizing an established scoping review framework. The efforts and results of this research will be presented. Read more here. Register here.

Date: June 26, 2020 12:30 - 2:00 pm MT