

CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS: VASCULAR NEUROLOGY SECTION

In response to a growing number of manuscripts pertaining to a variety of aspects of patient care related to interventional stroke treatment, the editorial board is calling for submissions to a new section of the JNIS entitled Vascular Neurology. This section will feature articles that relate to the peri-procedural aspects of interventional stroke care. These include socioeconomics, triage imaging, systems of care, post thrombectomy management, neuroprotectants, newer generation thrombolytics, hypothermia, pre-hospital triage technology, complications and other related topics. The JNIS is delighted to announce that Urs Fischer will serve as the Associate Editor managing this section.