

Anti-Bribery, Anti-Fraud & Anti-Corruption Policy

At the Against Malaria Foundation (AMF) every person involved: employees, trustees, net distributors, partners and others are expected to comply with the highest ethical standards.

AMF does not tolerate any form of bribery, corruption or fraud. If anyone connected with our operation becomes aware of a potential issue involving bribery, corruption or fraud it should be reported immediately to the CEO of AMF or, alternatively, to any of the Trustees.

Employees and Trustees of AMF are prohibited from accepting gifts or favors which could potentially be an inducement for them to favor any third party. They are strictly prohibited from becoming involved in bribery, corruption or fraud. Detailed financial procedures have been implemented to reduce the likelihood of bribery, corruption or fraud and these must be followed at all times.

Bed net distributors are assessed in advance for their ability to conform to this policy.

For the avoidance of doubt, bribery includes offering, promising, giving, accepting or soliciting of money, gifts or other advantages as an inducement to do something illegal or improper in the course of doing business. Corruption includes any improper attempt to influence a person in the exercise of their duties. Fraud includes deception, dishonest conduct and theft.
