TEACH to LEAD®

Giving educators the tools they need to lead innovative initiatives without leaving the profession.

Teach to Lead is a partnership of ASCD, Teach Plus, and the U.S. Department of Education. We envision a world where teachers are valued as experts in instruction and are leaders in informing, developing, and implementing education policy and practice to steer systematic improvements to benefit student learning.

WAYS TO GET INVOLVED

Come to a Summit

Do you have a problem of practice that you want to work through while getting feedback and support? A summit is the place for you and your team of three to five colleagues.

Become a Supporting Organization

Official Supporting Organizations are able to send representatives as Critical Friends to work with participating teams, sponsor summit programming, and provide resources for project implementation.

Host a #PoweredByTTL Event

Powered by Summits expand the Teach to Lead structure to Supporting Organizations interested in hosting their own personalized events. Hosts commit to honoring the vision and mission of Teach to Lead in their events.

"Having an opportunity to pull away from the pressures of life in our professional environments and spend time with others thinking purposefully about ONE specific problem gave me hope that a solution can be designed!"
