OUR DEV PROCESSES

We want to build the best online shopping experience while being fast in our product development - therefore we strongly believe in small teams. Our average team size is 4-6 developers. Yes, we are working agile - most teams work with Scrum, some with Kanban or a mixture. You have the choice between different hardware setups e.g. Macbook or a Windows notebook and which kind of IDE you want to work with.

Our source code is versioned in git repositories and we are using git flow as a workflow model.

If you get bored with the technology or project of your team, you always have the opportunity to move to a different team to grow as a developer.

To ensure that our devs have a satisfying work-environment, which still lets us be fast in what we do, we developed our own organizational model MOVE. It will support you to grow and learn new things. Find out more about MOVE here.

What I enjoy most about being a Circle Manager at ABOUT YOU is the speed of everything. You've got a cool idea? Simply get together with the UI/UX Team to design it, then develop it & put it live within a week for millions of users to see.

“

- Marcella, Circle Manager

DEVELOP YOUR CAREER AT ABOUT YOU

We offer you several opportunities to improve your career development within ABOUT YOU. If you start as a junior or intermediate developer we provide you with a clear path how you can reach the next career level - up to the position of a senior developer. Furthermore, we have clear role definitions for the position of “lead developer” or “tech lead” and can support you, if you want to evolve in this direction.

In addition, we strongly believe that sometimes becoming a more experienced developer is more valuable than striving for a management role. We therefore offer an expert track for developers, who want to stay developing but grow as a professional and increase salary over time.

ABOUT YOU is offering you a lot of opportunities to develop your career - just choose the track and start boosting your career.

About You gave me the chance to grow into several roles. I developed immensely, since working here, from a professional as well as a personal perspective.
