

Shaping the future public sector interoperability policy

Fields marked with * are mandatory.

Introduction

Impact assessment for a future interoperability policy

In the Communication Shaping Europe's digital future, the Commission has announced that by 2021 'a reinforced EU governments interoperability strategy to ensure coordination and common standards for secure and borderless public-sector data flows and services' will be put forward.

This part of the consultation focuses on the future interoperability policy for the EU's public sector. The aim is to gather stakeholders' feedback on the possible objectives and policy options for enhancing interoperability in the public sector in the EU, as well as the potential impacts that could arise from the policy options (including economic, social, environmental and fundamental rights impacts). The information collected will feed into the impact assessment on a future interoperability policy.

Policy objectives

IA.1. Should a future interoperability policy of the EU's public sector aim to achieve the following specific objectives?

	not at all	to a limited extent	to some extent	to a great extent	completely	don't know /no opinion
Reduce administrative burdens on businesses and citizens when interacting with public administrations	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Act as an enabler for innovative public-private (govtech) cooperation to foster the digitalisation of the public sector	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Support and promote the development and use of common standards and specifications for secure and borderless public-sector data flows and services	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Introduce a longer-term strategy to enhance commitment to the interoperability of digital public services throughout the EU	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

Support and promote the development, sharing and re-use of interoperability solutions and specifications by public administrations across the EU	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Support and promote the provision of quality, user-centric digital public services on a cross-border and cross-domain basis fostering the interoperability-by-design of policies, data, solutions and services	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Foster the availability and exchange of diverse, high-performance digital solutions to guarantee freedom of choice and the ability to change IT modules when necessary, thus contributing to digital sovereignty	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

IA.2. What other specific objective(s) could a future public sector interoperability policy pursue?

500 character(s) maximum

Interoperability in itself is not sufficient, and the portability of data is a linked objective. We see a critical role for open standards in this regard.

IA.3. What needs do you have with respect to interoperability in the EU’s public sector that should be considered when designing the future public sector interoperability policy?

N/A

Policy options

The future public sector interoperability policy could take different forms. The impact assessment focuses on a set of four core options that can be complemented by three “add-on” options (see below).

Core options

Option A (baseline) reflects the status quo with no change to the current EIF. It will look at the evolution of the policy problems and expected impacts in the absence of a future public sector interoperability policy, but will also take into account ongoing changes such as the transition of some of the implementing actions and governance of the EIF from ISA² to the Digital Europe Programme.

Option B (soft law) looks at possible revisions of the EIF and/or new guidelines/recommendations in the form of a Commission Communication, while keeping compliance voluntary. The possible revision of the EIF and its implementation strategy may involve:

- ensuring coherence with other EU initiatives;
- restructuring the EIF into a more practical framework, inter alia using open-source software;
- enhancing cooperation between public administrations and with the private sector; and
- adopting a new interoperability action plan.

Option C1 (hard law (Regulation) on cooperation) would involve a legislative proposal in the form of a Regulation introducing shared interoperability governance building on a cooperation mechanism (e.g. a committee, a joint undertaking or a centre of excellence). It may involve one or more of the following:

- fostering the development of the EU govtech sector;
- facilitating joint investment in interoperability solutions and skills;
- providing technical assistance;
- devising ways to establish public data and interoperability solutions based on common models or repositories of public services; and
- streamlining existing EU interoperability governance for greater coherence.

Option C2 (hard law (Directive) on interoperability requirements) – a Directive could introduce a legal framework with minimum interoperability requirements for public administrations and/or require all Member States to adopt a national interoperability strategy/framework in line with EU norms. The requirements may involve:

- common specifications for public administrations;
- devising ways to establish public data and interoperability solutions based on common models or repositories of public services;
- mandating the development of national interoperability frameworks and strategies aligned with EIF principles and recommendations;
- and ensuring data exchanges and portability.

Add-on options

Add-on option 1 (synergies) entails supporting the synergies between the EIF/future public sector interoperability policy and existing/upcoming policies, programmes and initiatives with a focus on funding for public-sector modernisation and digitalisation, e.g. the Digital Europe Programme, Resilience and Recovery Fund, Technical Support Instrument (successor of structural reform support programme) and Horizon Europe.

Add-on option 2 (conditionalities) – policy conditionalities could give the interoperability framework a more binding element. In this case, public administrations requesting EU funding and assistance for their efforts to modernise and digitalise their work would have to show that they are taking an interoperability-by-design approach to developing policies, solutions and services.

Add-on option 3 (European Semester) – the European Semester could be used as a tool to monitor countries' efforts to implement interoperability and ensure policy coordination. A special category could be added in the European Semester, with a focus on monitoring public administrations' digitalisation and interoperability efforts, and country-specific recommendations could be issued on the basis of their progress.

IA.4. Would the above policy options help foster interoperability in the public sector at EU, national, regional and local levels, and support an integrated and coherent approach to interoperability across the EU?

	not at all	to a limited extent	to some extent	to a great extent	completely	don't know /no opinion
Option A: baseline (no change to status quo)	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Option B: soft law	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Option C1: hard law (Regulation) on cooperation	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Option C2: hard law (Directive) on interoperability requirements	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Add-on option 1: synergies	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Add-on option 2: conditionalities	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Add-on option 3: European Semester	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

IA.5. Will the policy options receive enough support from policymakers and public administrations to be properly implemented?

Option A: baseline (no change to status quo)	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

European Interoperability Framework (EIF) evaluation

This part of the consultation focuses on the European Interoperability Framework (EIF) since its adoption in 2017. The aim is to take stock of the achievements of the EIF to date, analyse how coherent it is with other EU policies and initiatives, and understand its added value as an EU-level initiative. The evaluation of the EIF will also inform the design of a future interoperability policy for the EU's public sector, by outlining the elements of the EIF that have had positive results so far and the lessons that can be learned from past experience.

EIF.1 How familiar are you with the EIF?

Interoperability Governance

EIF.3. How useful has the layered interoperability model of the EIF been for enhancing interoperable digital public services? The model is described in the EIF and consists of four layers of interoperability (legal, organisational, semantic and technical), a cross-cutting component (integrated public service governance) and a background layer (interoperability governance)?

EIF.4. How useful has the EIF conceptual model for integrated public services provision been for enhancing interoperable digital public services? The conceptual model for integrated public services, presented in the EIF, promotes the idea of ‘interoperability-by-design’ as a standard approach for the planning, development, operation and maintenance of European public services. It is modular and comprises loosely coupled service components that are connected through shared infrastructure.
