I. THE ROLE OF THE TEAM CAPTAIN

A. Letter to the Team Captain

Congratulations! In consultation with the district education executive and the school consultant, you have been appointed to this important responsibility. Your selection as Team Captain reflects your demonstration of professional insight, experience, common sense and the ability to work well with others. It confirms your district's high degree of respect for your leadership abilities and in your role as Team Captain, you will have a dynamic effect on the school's future.

You have experienced the benefits of NLSA in your own school setting. This is an important part of your overall training as you serve your appointed school. As you guide the activities of the Team Validation Visit, you are not expected to be an expert, but to be a peer who brings an outside viewpoint of the school's operation. This manual also serves to document the requirements and conditions of your work as Team Captain. Review it carefully as it contains what you need to successfully complete your task.

As the school's assigned Team Captain of the Validation Team Visit, your primary task is to lead the members of the Validation Team through a process to verify and provide an unbiased response to the school's Self-Study Report and School Action Plan. The school's work is to be accurate, truthful and reflect the actual practices present at the school. Verification of the work of the school is accomplished as the Validation Team members interview, observe and evaluate the written documentation of the school.

The responsibilities of the Team Captain include ensuring that the school complies with all Required Indicators of Success and have responded with documentation to the General Indicators of Success in the 10 Standard areas. Your purpose is not to criticize or find fault, but is to strengthen the school by making specific, helpful recommendations. The recommendations reached by consensus of the Validation Team are to accurately reflect the team's findings which leads to a process of continued improvement for the school.

Thank you for agreeing to serve as Team Captain of the Validation Team. The school and the National Lutheran School Accreditation Commission are grateful for your willingness to serve in this capacity. May God bless your efforts on behalf of the school and its students.

Dr. Rebecca Schmidt
Interim Director, National Lutheran School Accreditation

B. Role of the Team Captain

The Team Captain is a critical stakeholder in the National Lutheran School Accreditation (NLSA) process whose work at the school is aligned with the purpose of NLSA. In collaboration with the members of the Validation Team, the Team Captain verifies that the school's Self-Study is accurate and truthful. Additionally, the Team Captain ensures that school's action goals are realistic, measurable and attainable. These efforts ensure the present and future quality of the Lutheran school.

The success of NLSA is directly aligned with the efficiency and effectiveness of the leadership of the Team Captain. It is critical that the Team Captain is familiar with the mission, purpose and values of NLSA and internalizes them with his or her work with schools.

Mission: The Team Captain provides an unbiased rating and responds to the school's self-evaluation and school action plan with recommendations that lead to continued school improvement.

Role: The Team Captain prepares a written report based on observations and judgments made during the Team Validation Visit.

Key Concern: The Team Captain is responsible for leading the Validation Team Visit to arrive at accurate ratings and recommendations based on an unbiased evaluation of the Self-Study Report and the actual practices in place at the school.

II. THE WORK OF THE TEAM CAPTAIN

The Team Captain's work is focused on the Validation Team Visit conducted at the school. Preparation, communication and coaching are necessary to lead a Validation Team Visit successfully.

A. Selection of the Validation Team Members

The Team Captain, in consultation with the school administrator and the district accreditation leader, recruits team members for the Validation Team Visit.

The Validation Team consists of the Team Captain and three (3) to four (4) additional members. Serving as a member of a Validation Team is a highly professional undertaking. It is important to secure team members who are professional, cooperative, helpful and constructive. A minimum of two members of the Validation Team shall have previous experience with NLSA serving as a member of a Validation Team or as a faculty member of a school that has completed or is currently involved in the accreditation process. Additionally, team members have a minimum of two years of college training specific to early childhood, at least five years of experience with early childhood and/or a basic understanding of what constitutes a quality early childhood program. Attention is given to the selection of Validation Team members for competency and balance.

Team members may be selected using the following criteria:

- A minimum of teachers or administrators from another LCMS school.
- A teacher or administrator from a non-LCMS Christian school.
- A public school educator or administrator. (LCMS congregation member when possible).
- A pastor of another LCMS congregation with a school.

When the team is complete, the national NLSA director formally appoints each team member. No later than 4 weeks before the Validation Team Visit, the school administrator submits the list of Validation team members to the NLSA director for confirmation of the Validation team.

B. Preparation of Validation Team Members for Effective Service

The purpose of the Validation Team Report is to verify the accuracy of the Self-Study and move the center toward higher levels of quality. To prepare for the process, the work of the Validation Team is subdivided. Each team member is assigned to a major responsibility for some Standards and a minor responsibility for others. The report for each Standard is written by the team member with the major responsibility with support from the team member with the minor responsibility. The finished reports are discussed by the whole team, and by consensus, a recommendation for accreditation is determined.

Basic Tasks of the Validation Team Members

- Read the entire Self-Study Report with a focus in the assigned Standard areas.

- Review Required Evidence.
- Note specific questions and concerns about the Self-Study.
- Determine the ways the Self-Study reflects the philosophy of the center and NLSA Standards.
- Observe the center, visit all early childhood classrooms and view its program in full operation to determine the actual practices of the center.
- Conduct interviews with parents/guardians, church staff and congregation members. Formulate preliminary conclusions about strengths and weaknesses of the center.
- Use professional judgment and experience in developing commendations and recommendations in the assigned Standard areas.
- Prepare a specific, helpful written report that reflects the observations made during the visit.

The final Validation Team Report is prepared by consensus with careful review, discussion and editing of the individual Standard drafts.

C. Self-Study Process Requirements

NLSA requirements are established for each of the ten Standard areas. To be accredited in good standing, a school must provide Required Resources and Documentation (Addendum #5), respond “YES” to all Required Indicators (Addendum #6) and meet or exceed 80% of the points assigned to the Required and General Indicators of Success.

Required Responses and Required Evidence consist of what is kept on file to guide the school (documents, policies, schedules, meeting minutes, written curriculum etc.). Practices are what the school does to implement the documentation (training, teaching methods, supervision, building inspections etc.). Both must be evident.

A written curriculum is an NLSA Required Document. For many, it is typically one of the most challenging parts of the accreditation process. At a minimum, the NLSA expectations for curriculum design include:

- Written objectives and learning outcomes for the spiritual, social/emotional, cognitive, physical and creative domains for all age groups.
- Faith integration throughout the curriculum.

Accredited schools continuously use a variety of assessment tools to evaluate the effectiveness of their curricular outcomes, adjusting related teaching strategies and instruction when necessary. Therefore, the curriculum becomes a living document that guides and directs the instructive process.

The Validation Team assures that the school meets NLSA curriculum requirements and that documentation is complete.

D. Validating Required and General Indicators of Success

The Required Indicators of Success describe the practices that are essential for Lutheran schools seeking accreditation and provide evidence and practices to support each “YES” response. The Validation Team verifies that all Required Indicators of Success are met in full and have comments provided.

The General Indicators of Success are rated according to the actual practice in place at the school using one of the following ratings:

Met in Full (2) – The General Indicator of Success has been completely accomplished by the school. It is verifiable through evidence and documentation.

Partially Met (1) – The General Indicator of Success is moderately accomplished but additional detail, depth and written documentation is needed to meet the indicator in full.

Not Presently Met (0) – The General Indicator of Success is not present or is emerging (minimally present).

The Validation Team verifies that numerical ratings are accurate and comments are included for all General Indicators of Success.

E. Opportunities for Special Recognition

A Validation Team Visit assures that a school provides quality, Christian education and is committed to ongoing improvement. Occasionally a Validation Team observes a school that exceeds quality expectations and exhibits unique, replicable best practices and/or is led by a dynamic administrative team. When either of these occur, a Validation Team may nominate a school for a potential Powerful Practice and/or nominate a pastor for the School Shepherd Award.

A school's Powerful Practice is much more than an expectation that quantifies Standard compliance. It innovates and exceeds accreditation expectations. It is a calculated risk that results in significant reward for students. Therefore, it is a desirable condition that has significance for schools throughout the LCMS. NLSA seeks to identify and share Powerful Practices that set a school apart and distinguishes it as a highly respected educational institution in its community. Powerful Practices are carefully researched, collaboratively established and dynamically affect student learning and/or ministry opportunities in a Lutheran school. These are the practices that have the potential for replication in other Lutheran schools.

The School Shepherd Award is established by National Lutheran School Accreditation to honor a faithful pastor who provides outstanding encouragement, support and service to his school. This award allows NLSA to recognize an outstanding school pastor and identify the practices and tangible means of support that have positively impacted the school he serves. The Validation Team can nominate a pastor for the School Shepherd Award based on the following criteria.

The nominee:

- Has completed a minimum of three (3) years of service at the church and school (birth through Grade 12) where he serves
- Understands and articulates a clear philosophy of Lutheran education
- Values and supports school administrator(s) and actively participates in team ministry in the church and school community

- Engages and participates in school activities
- Works well with the governing body of the school and/or parent advisory associations
- Champions the school

One pastor is selected in July by an appointed committee of the NLSA National Accreditation Commission to receive the NLSA School Shepherd Award. District and Synod recognition follow later.

F. Review of the School Action Plan

A preliminary School Action Plan is developed by the school using the concerns identified during the Self-Study process. The Validation Team also adds recommendations to the School Action Plan during the Validation Team Visit. This process generates a blueprint for ongoing improvement. The resulting plan is designed to improve child outcomes, enhance ministry, develop and improve programs, facilities and/or services for the benefit of all children. The School Action Plan includes the following:

- Recommendations related to findings from the Self-Study process and the Validation Team recommendations.
- Strategies aligned with the recommendations that provide ideas, plans, actions and steps for accomplishing the recommendations within a prescribed timeframe.
- Strategies that are specific and measurable.
- The target school year identifying when each strategy is addressed in the School Action Plan.
- The representative group that is responsible for initiating, planning, coordinating and evaluating the progress of the School's Action Plan.

G. The Validation Team Report

The Validation Team's written report reflects its findings and is the most important product of the Validation Team Visit. Preparation of the Validation Team Report is a collaborative effort involving all members of the team. Standard areas prepared by individual team members are reviewed and approved collaboratively where consensus is reached before the report is finalized. The report is reflective of the overall quality expected of schools in the NLSA process and is the basis for the activities of the School Action Plan that guides the school throughout the course of its coming accreditation cycle.

Note: Some Validation Teams have completed the team report using Google docs or other electronic means. In these cases, be aware that formatting in Google docs and others is often altered when it is exported or converted to Microsoft Word.

All Validation Team Reports begin with the following introductory information prepared by the Team Captain:

- Title Page (School Name, Location, Date of Visit, List of Team Members)
- Foreword
- Disclaimer
- Validation Team Member Biographic Information

A one-page Report Summary follows the introductory information and contains the following:

- The Validation Team’s Overall Impression of the school – one or two paragraphs
- Outstanding Strengths – identifying six to ten significant strengths of the school
- Major Deficiencies – any conditions, based on an NLSA Standard, that have severe, negative effects on the quality of education, the ministry of the school and/or endangers the health and safety of the school population. Many schools will have no major deficiencies.
- Checklist
- Overall School Percentage Score
Total Number of Points Earned for Rated Indicators divided by
Total Number of Points Possible for Rated Indicators
- Signature of the Team Captain
- Accreditation Recommendation – Accredited in Good Standing, Provisional Accreditation or Accreditation Denied*

*Most schools receive the recommendation for Accredited in Good Standing status. A school receiving this status reports progress on its School Action Plan yearly on a Cumulative Annual Report Form beginning the year following the Validation Team Visit.

Some schools receive the recommendation for Provisional Accreditation status. A provisionally accredited school fails to comply with the Required Standards or Indicators of Success and/or is cited with major deficiencies by the Validation Team. These schools must show progress on the identified concerns within a designated time frame, usually one year. The District Accreditation Commission reports the progress of provisionally accredited schools to the LCMS National Accreditation Commission, and failure to address the concerns cited for provisional accreditation may result in the loss of accreditation.

In rare instances, Accreditation Denied may be recommended when the Self-Study Report, required responses and/or evidence is incomplete.

Team Findings

The Team Findings section presents the Validation Team’s analysis of each of the NLSA Standards areas and indicators for each Standard. It includes an Overview and identifies Strengths and Concerns. Related Recommendations are identified by the Validation Team through review of the school’s prepared documentation, observations and interviews conducted during the visit.

The report for each Standard contains four distinct parts:

- A. Overview
- B. Strengths
- C. Concerns
- D. Recommendations

Overview

The overview is an objective statement of what is, devoid of any concerns or recommendations. It provides a brief, general description of the quality of the Standard present in the center.

Strengths

The strengths section includes specific aspects of the center which deserve commendation. It is vital that the report is balanced with strengths and concerns, when possible. The purpose of the report is to assist the school, not to criticize unduly.

For each strength, the source of information is documented with the following code:

- 1=Self-Study Report
- 2=Interview
- 3=Observation
- 4=Written Documentation

Concerns

It is appropriate that the report includes the concerns of the Team. This may be the most vital part of the report since it identifies areas for improvement. Focus on major issues rather than insignificant details. Identify concerns based on specific observations and relate each concern to an NLSA Indicator. Include the General Indicator of Success number with each concern.

For each concern, the source of information is documented with the following code:

- 1=Self-Study Report
- 2=Interview
- 3=Observation
- 4=Written Documentation

Recommendations

Recommendations are based on the Validation Team's professional judgment and experience. A minimum of one corresponding recommendation is provided for each concern. A report that lists only concerns does not assist with improvement. The school is required to carefully consider all recommendations as it develops the School Action Plan to address ongoing improvement that is to be completed during the accreditation cycle.

The Final Report

The report components, written by individual team members, are assembled in the final report format. Each component is then approved by the Validation Team as a whole.

Final Instructions to the Team Captain

- Complete the Validation Team sections of the Validation Team Submission Report Form, and give to the administrator for inclusion with the Validation Team Report that is forwarded to the district office.
- Remind the administrator to attach the General Information About the School section of the Self-Study Report to the Validation Team Report. This is a required element of the materials that must be received in the district and national offices.

- Forward the final edited copy of the Validation Team Report to the school within two weeks of the conclusion of the visit. Provide a copy of the final edited Validation Team Visit Report to each team member within two weeks of the conclusion of the visit.
- Remind the school administrator that the school is responsible for sending the Validation Team Visit Report to the district office. The school is not authorized to make any changes to the report.

Did the Validation Team change any ratings that were assigned by the school?

YES

NO

If YES, what was the justification for changing the rating?

1A:03 – The rating was changed from Fully Met (2) to Partially Met (1). Although the Mission and Ministry Statement was developed collaboratively with stakeholder involvement, it is not reviewed annually.

I. The Validation Team Exit Report

The final task of the Validation Team is to provide a brief oral exit report for the faculty and other individuals invited by the school. The content of the Report Summary is shared with the school administrator before it is shared with the school community by the Team Captain.

During the Exit Report, the Team Captain leads the report, and often, the team members participate in the presentation. Outstanding strengths of the school are highlighted as the report is general in nature and only serves to outline the forthcoming written report. The Team Captain shares the Report Summary.

When there is a major deficiency, the Team Captain contacts the district education executive and/or the district NLSA commissioner in advance of the Validation Team Exit Report. With the support of the education executive, the Team Captain shares the major deficiencies (conditions that may have a severe effect on the quality of education, the ministry of the school and/or endanger the health and safety of the school population).

The only specific recommendation given during the exit report is the overall recommendation for or against accreditation. The exit report is not to exceed 45 minutes and after that time, a brief question-and-answer period may be held.

A Validation Team Exit Report PowerPoint presentation can be used to guide the oral exit report.

A copy of the one-page Report Summary is left with the school. When questions are raised during the Exit Report, the school is advised that they are addressed in the fully-documented Validation Team Report that the school will receive within two weeks. The oral Exit Report concludes the Validation Team's work at the school.

Accreditation by National Lutheran School Accreditation (NLSA) indicates that a school successfully completed the NLSA process of Self-Study, reporting, evaluation with a Team Validation Visit, and that the Team Validation Visit members recommended NLSA accreditation as a result of the visit. It is determined, through this process, that the school is worthy of NLSA accreditation. Neither NLSA, nor its authorizing agency, The Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod, assumes responsibility for the school's quality (or lack thereof) or for variations from NLSA standards either at the time of initial accreditation or at any time during NLSA accreditation.

III. ADDENDUMS

Addendum #1: NLSA Conflict of Interest

The National Lutheran School Accreditation (NLSA) Conflict of Interest Policy and Code of Ethical Behavior ensures the integrity of the entire accreditation process. Individuals interacting with the process (Validation Team, Team Captain, School Consultant, District Accreditation Commission, National Accreditation Commission, and NLSA National Office Staff) must not have any real or perceived financial, institutional, or personal interest(s) in the outcome of the Validation Team Report or overall Accreditation process that would impact their ability to be objective and independent throughout the entire process.

Such interests may include, but are not limited to:

- Existing or potential financial or other interests in the school
- Service as a board member, administrator or staff member of the school
- Employment or consulting relationships with the school
- Clients or vendors where the individual is positioned to gain directly or indirectly from the school
- Close family relationships, such as spouse, child or close friend who have any of the listed interests

Prior to the appointment of a Validation Team, all members of the prospective team must complete an NLSA Conflict of Interest Policy and Code of Ethical Behavior Agreement. This is to be submitted, alongside the list of prospective Team member names for approval and appointment, to the NLSA director and will be kept on file in the NLSA National Office until the completion of the school's NLSA accreditation process.

Addendum #8: NLSA Weather and Other Emergency Situations Procedures for NLSA Validation Teams

Question: Who is responsible for the decision to postpone a National Lutheran School Accreditation (NLSA) school visit should there be hazardous road conditions and/or should team members decline to make the trip out of concern for poor road conditions and safety?

Answer:

- The Team Captain stays informed of potential weather or emergency situations that may impact the school visit. The Team Captain is encouraged to maintain contact with the school/system to be aware of local conditions.
- The Team Captain contacts the District Education Executive and NLSA Commissioner by email or phone to decide to postpone, reschedule or delay the start of the visit. The Education Executive and/or District Commissioner will work with the school/system and Team Captain to make the final decision regarding the school visit.
- If the Team Captain is unable to reach the Education Executive and/or District Commissioner, he/she will need to make this decision in conjunction with the school/system administrator.
- The Team Captain will communicate with the validation team members to keep them informed of the decision and the next steps. It is recommended that Team Captain ensure that they have the appropriate cell phone contacts for their team members in addition to school/system contact information.

Question: Can the school/system collaborate with the Team Captain to adjust the schedule or make modifications to the team's activities should schools close during part of the school visit or travel become hazardous due to weather conditions?

Answer:

- The Team Captain is authorized to adjust the schedule as necessary to conduct the visit, keeping in mind that the quality of the school visit and maintaining the integrity of the accreditation protocol are important.
- Examples of modifications include the following:
 - Use of conference call or video conferencing to conduct interviews with stakeholder groups.
 - Conducting interviews at the hotel location if the school is closed.
 - Delaying the start time of the school visit by a few hours to allow for travel situations and adjusting the schedule accordingly.
 - Delaying the Exit Report so that school visits, interviews, and other activities take place to ensure a quality review.
 - Never complete a Validation Team Report or conduct the concluding meeting on a school visit until an on-site visit is completed and the team has some way to collaborate on all the findings. The exit meeting with the institution may have to be completed via video or conference call at a later date.

Question: Who pays for the costs incurred when a school visit must be canceled and rescheduled?

Answer:

- The school/system is responsible for all costs related to NLSA Validation Visits.
- Flight reservations, if applicable, and hotel reservations may need to be rebooked if a school visit is postponed and rescheduled. Rescheduling a school visit is very expensive, especially when flights are involved. If the team is on-site, the interviews and review of evidence can usually be completed, and observations can be conducted through the direction of NLSA at a later time.

- The school/ system is responsible for the cost of changes due to extenuating circumstances that are outside the control of NLSA, such as bad weather and emergency situations.

Question: Who is responsible for contacting team members?

Answer:

- The Team Captain must contact team members regarding any cancellation or delay of the school visit. This may be done via email, phone or text message. Team Captains are strongly encouraged to be proactive in alerting team members to any potential delays or postponements.
- In case of rescheduled school visits, the Team Captain will work with the District Education Executive and District Commissioner to update the NLSA National Office regarding revised visit dates and in replacing team members who may be unavailable for the rescheduled visit dates.
