MAKE A DIFFERENCE

Every project in every community starts with listening. We believe that our congregations, companion churches and partners know their communities best. That's why they identify the needs and priorities in their communities, as well as the solutions they believe will make the biggest impact.

The items in this catalog are real examples from projects currently supported through different churchwide ministries. The projects have been planned by our partners – meaning that each community receives exactly the kind of support it needs and none of what it doesn't.

Your donation will be used where needed most within the wider category of each gift you've selected. (For example, a gift of vaccinations may be used to support other health care initiatives.) This allows our church to stay adaptive, flexible and effective in the work that it does. Because we seek to honor your generosity and keep administrative costs low, we do not track individual financial gifts to specific families or locations in the United States or abroad.

At an average cost of $2,500, a spring box is one of many types of water projects supported by your gifts. Water wells can range from $2,500 to $10,000 or more, depending on the location and cost of materials.

Simple water well

One of the biggest challenges to overcoming poverty is lack of access to clean water. With a simple well, or spring box, as many as 500 families gain access to clean, safe water. Communities are healthier. People spend less money on medical expenses and more on food and education. And instead of spending hours each day gathering water for the family, women and children have time for work and school. Talk about a future filled with hope!

$2,500 Simple water well

$250 Share of a safe water project

Paul Jeffrey/Life on Earth

With this new well ... the water is better and clear, clear. This water fountain brought relief to us. We are isolated, and with this good water, we can help families who are without.

—Sirlei, Brazil

Water filter

When safe drinking water just isn't available – especially in times following emergencies or natural disasters – a simple ceramic water filter is a lifesaver. Capable of purifying water without electricity or chemicals, a water filter is a powerful, reliable way to provide safe water when it's needed most.

$30 Water filter

Irrigation system

Many farmers around the world rely on rainwater to nourish their crops. When the rain doesn't fall, an entire community can be vulnerable to drought and hunger. Irrigation systems, coupled with training and maintenance, can help vulnerable farmers and their families become more resilient to the impacts of climate change and give them the tools to protect their water supply.

Latrine

When you gotta go, you gotta go. But a startling 2 billion people around the world lack access to basic sanitation, including toilets. Without facilities, contamination of the local water supply and food chain make far too many people sick from preventable diseases. A new latrine, along with training to help with maintenance and hygiene, leads to a much healthier community, not to mention a safer way to take care of business.

$150 Latrine

Start a small business with a microloan

A woman may have the necessary leadership skills to realize her dream of owning a small business, but without savings or access to credit, getting started can be a challenge.

A microloan can be just what a woman needs to start her business – weaving, baking or running a storefront, for example – to create a steady source of income and help her family overcome poverty. As she repays the loan, the funds are reinvested in a cooperative so that the cycle of giving will continue and its impact will grow.

$125 Microloan for a woman

I have opened my own restaurant because I am passionate about cooking. I really welcome this initiative because we women are satisfied with daily credit to build our businesses so we can meet our family needs like food, health and education.

Send a woman to farmers' field school

Women are the force behind half the world's food production, but they don't always enjoy the same access to land, supplies or education as their male counterparts. According to one estimate, if female farmers around the world had equal access to these resources, the resulting food production would put a significant dent in the number of people living with hunger. With an opportunity to attend farmers' field school, women can learn the latest advances in agriculture, marketing and leadership, and help nourish their families and communities.

WOMEN AND CHILDREN

Send a girl to school

Worldwide, girls are far less likely than boys to be enrolled in school. Many factors play into this, yet helping families with school fees and uniforms can eliminate the difficult choice parents make about which child goes to school and which stays home. When you educate a girl, you open a world of opportunity for her future and the future of her family and community.

$40 School fees and uniform for a girl

School supplies

Imagine being denied the chance to attend school just because your family can't afford school supplies. This is the case for far too many children around the world. Your gift of notebooks, paper and pencils provide the building blocks for a brighter future.

$10 School supplies for a child

$300 School supplies for a classroom

Internet access can open a world of learning, allowing children to continue their education even at home – a key step in ending hunger and poverty for them and their communities.

$100 One month of internet connectivity for students

Environmentally friendly cookstove

Traditional cooking stoves can burn a lot of wood and fill small homes with dangerous smoke that leads to a host of health problems for families. More efficient stoves can burn a variety of fuels, produce less smoke and maintain heat better, which means families burn less wood and face fewer health risks.

$105 Environmentally friendly cookstove

AGRICULTURE

Community vegetable garden

Start with a shared plot of land and soil, add drought-resistant seeds, and top it off with tools and training. The result? Plenty of tomatoes, potatoes, cabbage, beans, cassava and other vegetables to go around. Extra produce can be sold for income, with the garden's members using their shared profits to reinvest in and expand the garden.

Fruit-tree seedling

Certain fruit trees – such as mango, orange and guava – are known to thrive in the driest of conditions, even drought. These low-maintenance trees represent an investment in the community that can span generations, protecting the soil from erosion and providing vitamin-packed fruit to children and adults alike.

$10 Fruit-tree seedling

$150 Fruit tree farm

Seeds and gardening tools

Help a new gardener grow! New tools and equipment – along with seeds and comprehensive agricultural training – can help a family start their own small garden, improve their daily nutrition and increase their earning power.

$50 Seeds and gardening tools

“ When [we received] the fruit grafts and vegetable seeds, we were joyful. We couldn't buy the seeds or the seedlings and didn't know how to care for and plant some things, so that work was significant. From there, we could multiply our seeds ourselves.

It's a simple yet powerful way to protect our most vulnerable neighbors and save lives.

$25 Hygiene kit

Vaccinations for a child

Every 20 seconds, a child dies from a vaccine-preventable disease, such as measles, polio, tetanus and tuberculosis, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. Immunizing a child is one of the best ways to make sure that they stay healthy – and that their family avoids the medical costs associated with treating these illnesses – for years to come.

LEADERS AND CHANGE-MAKERS

Help a woman leader make a difference

Our global companion churches have identified young women who excel in their studies and show great potential to lead their communities. They just need financial support to continue their schooling. That's where you can play a role – by offering a scholarship and a spot in one of our ELCA colleges or universities to complete a young woman's education in business, women's rights, peace studies or some other subject. After their education, these women return to their home countries ready to assume important leadership roles. # HELP AT HOME

Stock a backpack with food

More than 30 million children in the United States depend on school meal programs to stay well-nourished and ready to learn. But on weekends, many children struggle to maintain the same nutrition level at home. Backpack programs across the country help students at risk of hunger by discreetly stocking their backpacks with a weekend's supply of food each Friday afternoon and sometimes over holidays. That way, children – and their families – have a couple days of healthy meals and snacks to get them through the weekend and back in the classroom ready to learn!

$10 Stock a backpack with food

“Do not neglect to do good and to share what you have,

for such sacrifices are pleasing to God.”
