Active Minds/Toy Library and Early Learning Center: Active Minds is a bilingual, play-based school readiness program that provides early education experiences for children (ages two, three and four years) and their parents. Classes focus on age appropriate social/emotional, language, and literacy skill development. Parents and children actively engage together in classroom activities. Teachers model strategies to help parents make the connection between play and school readiness. Parents are provided with ideas and resources to extend learning opportunities at home. Active Minds is funded by the First 5 Napa County Children and Families Commission and Auction Napa Valley: Napa Valley Vintner Association's Early Learning Initiative. The Toy Library and Early Learning Center is open to all families with children, early childhood educators, and child care providers who live or work in Napa County.

The Toy Library loans playthings and early learning materials free of charge to support the development of children's language, cognitive, physical, and social skills. The Early Childhood Specialist/Toy Librarian assists parents in selecting toys and activities that are appropriate for their children's level of development, age, special needs, and interests. The Toy Library is a green and frugal resource that saves families and early childhood educators money and keeps interesting playthings in the hands of children whose developmental needs change rapidly in the early years. The Toy Library and Early Learning Center is funded by the First 5 Napa County Children and Families Commission. The Toy Library and Early Learning Center funded by First 5 served 846 children and 696 adults.
